POW Ship Hits Landing Craft Off Inchon, 28 Marines Dead

BEFORE THE LAUNCHING. The USS Nautilus, world's first atomic submarine, undergoes some last minute adjustments by shipyard workers before the official launching at Groton, Conn., where Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower was to break the traditional bottle of champagne over the 3,000-ton craft. The Nautilus, which cost an estimated $40 million, is about 300 feet long and is more than one third faster than conventional subs.

22 Survivors Hauled From Frigid Water

INCHON, Korea (U) — Twenty-eight U. S. Marines were dead or missing today after a troopship loaded with Chinese war prisoners collided with and capsized a small landing craft.

The toll was surpassed by that of only one other naval disaster in the Korean theater.

Maj. Gen. William S. Lawton, commanding general of the Korean communication zone, said 22 survivors—3rd Division Marines and crewmen—were rescued from the chill waters of Inchon harbor minutes after the collision between a big Formosa-bound LST (landing ship, tank) and an LCM (landing craft, medium). They were not seriously hurt. The Marines were weighted down with heavy equipment.

Six bodies were recovered and 22 others were presumed dead when the search was called off at dusk. The small ship had carried 50 men, Lawton said.

The accident occurred when the LCM crossed the bow of the big LST, loaded with 1,000 Chinese prisoners returned to the U. N. command by Indian custodian troops yesterday. The LST was reported manned by a Japanese crew.

Toll of the naval tragedy was surpassed in the Korean theater only by the 30 dead in a turret explosion aboard the cruiser St. Paul April 21, 1952, and by the loss of 26 men when the minesweeper Walker struck a mine off Wonsan harbor June 12, 1951.

The Marine helmsman of the LCM told Associated Press Correspondent Robert Emswiler he was trying to bring his craft alongside the LST so the Marine guard detachment could board.

He is Pfc. John D. Gates Jr. of Pensacola, Fla.

The Navy ordered an immediate inquiry.

Ohio — Cleveland harbor, $1,200,000.

Flood control projects (reservoirs)

Ohio — Dillon, $2,000,000.

Examinations and surveys, $2,800,000, including survey of Great Lakes water level, $50,000.

Operation and maintenance, $76,200,000.

Advance planning, $2,500,000.

Guards To Walk Away

Anti-Red POW's Will Be Left on Own, Indians Say

PANMUNJOM (U)—If the Communists do not take back 349 pro-Red war prisoners—including 21 Americans—Indian guards will open the gates of their neutral zone stockade and walk away at midnight Friday, an Indian general said today.

"First we will have to tell the prisoners that their owners refuse to take them back," said Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya. "Then we will open the gate and we will tell our men to go back to their line."

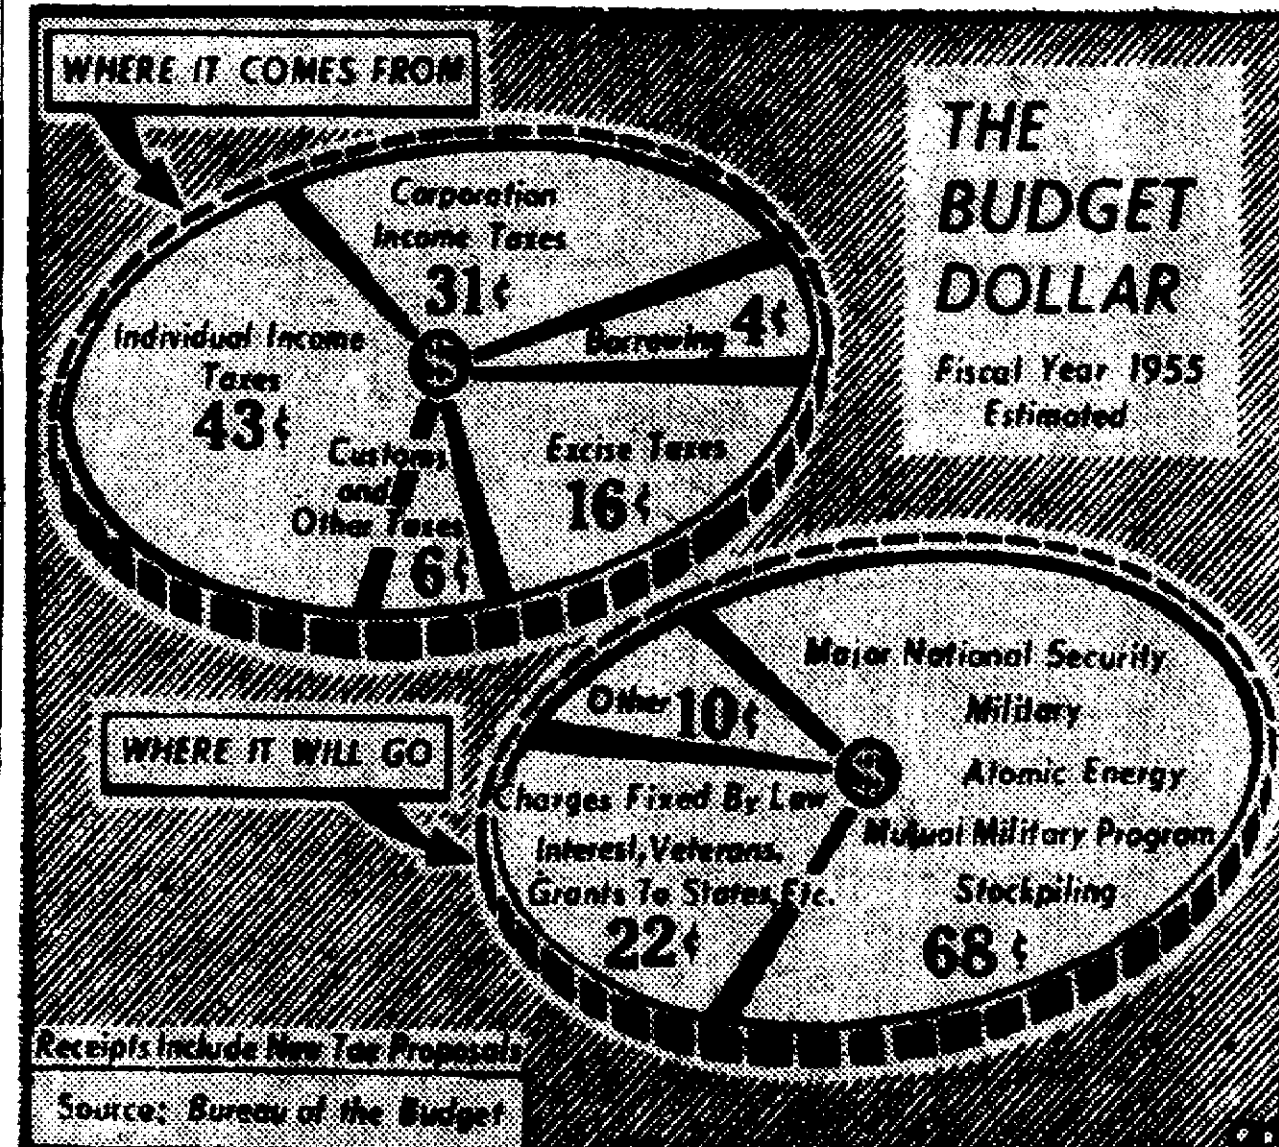

The Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission conceded that if the prisoners refuse to leave their conditions other than honorable.

The Indian command returned 21,809 anti-Communist Chinese and Korean war prisoners to U. N. Communists.

In Washington, the Defense Department said the 21 Americans would be discharged as "undesirable" tomorrow. The action will cut off their military pay and convert them into civilians.

Canada Doubtful

Senators Approve Seaway Proposals

WASHINGTON (U) — The Senate, after slapping down St. Lawrence seaway legislation for two decades, has finally taken a huge step towards authorizing the United States to join Canada in carrying out the project.

But after an enabling measure sailed through the Senate last night on a 51-33 vote, Canadian government informants raised a serious question as to whether their country was still interested in U. S. participation.

All-Canadian Project

After repeated failure of seaway legislation in Congress, Canada undertook to go it alone. In Ottawa last night, government sources said that country still would push for an all-Canadian seaway on her side of the boundary river. The Canadian government was represented as feeling that the United States spending 105 million dollars, would be getting too much of a bargain in joint control of navigation and shipping tolls.

They explained Canada already has spent that much on locks and is prepared to put up 300 million dollars for navigation facilities.

Heads for House

The bill approved by the Senate would permit the United States to join with Canada in building a 27-foot-deep St. Lawrence River channel linking the Great Lakes to the Atlantic.

The bill, strongly supported by President Eisenhower and the Joint Chiefs of Staff because of the project's claimed importance

Toll Is Feared Near 100 In Pakistan Rail Crash

KARACHI, Pakistan (U)—The 60-mile-an-hour Pakistan Mail passenger train collided with a petroleum-carrying freight about 75 miles north of Karachi early today. Officials feared the dead and injured might exceed 100.

A number of foreigners, including Americans and Britons, were aboard the passenger train. But damage appeared largely restricted to lower class coaches just behind the engine.

Two of the first coaches were reported "completely burned" and two others and the engines of both trains badly damaged.

New Plant Planned

WARREN, Ohio (U)—The Packard electric division of General Motors plans to build a new copper rod mill on a 165-acre tract of land just north of the city. The cost of the plant was not announced. It will be part of a huge national expansion by GM.

Total Spending Drops, Security Outlay Boosted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower laid a 65½-billion-dollar budget before Congress today, slashing 54-billion dollars from total spending but proposing record outlays for atomic energy, continental defense and overseas military aid.

Despite a 7½ per cent cut under estimated spending this year—also lowered—Eisenhower told Congress the government will wind up the 1955 fiscal year nearly three billion dollars in the red. Fiscal 1955 starts July 1.

Although he proposed a broad program of tax law changes, he told Congress no further general tax cuts are justified at present.

His message said the budget was based on a "new concept" of security planning which places reliance on "the full exploitation of modern air power" and on "new weapons" to justify manpower and dollar defense cuts.

He proposed spending $2,425,000,000 next year for atomic energy. This increase of 225 millions over this year would bring atomic spending to "the highest point in our history," he said. He also said that since most atomic energy plant construction is complete, spending now would concentrate on "operations."

He set no figure for continental defense, but said outlays would be "greater than ever before in our history" to provide early warning and reaction to attack.

Military aid would rise by 75 million dollars, he said, to a new six months of this year. There peak of $4,275,000,000 for round-fore, he said, he was renewing the-world assistance to friendly nations last summer, for a higher ceiling.

The President told Congress "there will be no way of operating within the present debt limit" of 275 billion dollars in the last

Billion Dollar Cut in Taxes Limit for Now, Ike Declares

WASHINGTON (U) — President Eisenhower today urged upon Congress a big tax revision program that would reduce revenue about $1,215,000,000 next year—and then drew a line against further cuts now.

The revision program, he said in his budget message, would rewrite a tax structure he termed "haphazard," easing burdens for millions of persons and promoting business expansion to push America "to ever higher standards of living."

But Eisenhower said this program and the five billion dollars in annual tax cuts which took effect Jan. 1 are all the reductions "our national security and well-being will permit" right now.

He thus raised a barrier against growing talk by some Congress members in this election year for (1) a further general cut in individual income taxes and (2) a lowering of all excise or sales taxes which are above 10 per cent to that level.

The President reiterated his request, first made last May and renewed in his State of the Union message, for extension of present rates of excise and corporation in-

Defense Proposals Based On New Security Concept

WASHINGTON (U) — President Eisenhower recommended today a $37,575,000,000 military outlay for the next fiscal year, with a shift in emphasis from foot soldiery to a "full exploitation of air power and modern weapons."

The spending budget he proposed to Congress for the Defense Department is about four billion dollars less than that estimated for the current year, which ends June 30.

Based on New Concept

Eisenhower said the budget is based on a "new concept for our national security program." A substantial part of the savings obviously would come in manpower, particularly Army manpower. The budget figures reflect an over-all reduction of about 8.7 per cent in manpower for all the armed forces. Army personnel would be reduced by 17.3 per cent, and three divisions would be dropped from the present 20.

Against the cutback in strength of the Army, in which Eisenhower was a five-star general, there was the President's emphatic advocacy of greater power in the air.

He said the Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps now have, among them, about 33,000 planes. During the next three years, he said, this will be increased to 40,000, more than half of them jets. Twenty-two per cent of defense expenditures in the new fiscal year would go to airplane procurement. The 1955 fiscal year program, the President wrote, "calls for im-

Study Slated, Will Determine City Hall Needs

Plan Covers Possible Expansion Project on Governmental Offices

A preliminary study for a possible remodeling and enlarging project of city hall facilities in the Eagles Building on W. Center St. will be made by Thomas Taylor, assistant city engineer, Mayor Harold F. Robinson said today.

Results of this study along with other proposals for providing city government with adequate facilities will be presented to City Council for consideration sometime in the next few weeks, he added.

Decision to make such a study came out of a meeting of Mayor Robinson with officials of the Marion Aerie of the Eagle's Lodge Tuesday night.

Mayor Robinson said Taylor will make a survey of all city offices to determine their needs and will then study the building to determine whether it is possible to make the necessary improvements and enlargements. If so, he will also draw up preliminary plans for the improvements and will prepare estimates of the costs.

Once this is completed, the plans will be presented to Lodge officers for a decision as to what if any additional rental fees the city must pay for the bettered facilities, Mayor Robinson said.

Other proposals which the mayor

'Nautilus Launched' First Atom-Power Sub Now Is Afloat

GROTON, Conn. (U)—AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss, in launching ceremonies today for the world's first nuclear-engineered submarine, said the craft is symbolic of both the "atomic thunderbolts" of defense and of a peaceful boon of nuclear power.

And the Navy's top commander, Adm. Robert B. Carney, saw the historic occasion as an unfolding of "new vistas of American sea power."

The Nautilus was launched at 10:57 a. m. EST.

Launched by Mamie

The two men expressed themselves in addresses prepared for delivery a few minutes before Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower was called upon to perform the traditional naming ceremony.

Strauss, head of the Atomic Energy Commission, said this launching transcends all those that have gone before because "The Nautilus is something new under the sun." Then he declared of the submarine:

"It typifies the spirit of America at the time of its founding, and the spirit of America in this eleventh year of the atomic age. We are strong with the strength of atomic thunderbolts to resist aggression and to forestall tyranny while at the same time we extend the olive branch of a worthy peace."

Carney said the Nautilus marked the beginning of a new chapter in the history of sea power, and he said:

"Revolutionary thing that she is, the technicians and tacticians will strive to wring the greatest military advantage from this latest product of American genius. The fleet is hungry to put her to work . . ."

Ike Supported By Democrats On Treaty Issue

WASHINGTON (U) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said today 15 to 20 Democrats are ready to "stand behind President Eisenhower" by voting against any constitutional change in treaty-making powers.

Humphrey said in an interview he believes the country's interest would be best served by defeating efforts of Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to change the Constitution.

Eisenhower has said adoption of Bricker's proposed amendment would make it almost impossible for him to deal with foreign nations in many fields, Bricker says his proposal is aimed at shielding state and individual citizens' rights from treaty invasion. Lawyers do not agree on how real the threat of such invasion is.

Republican leaders have been attempting to compromise with Bricker to eliminate provisions objectionable to the President, but Humphrey said that even if a compromise is reached a Democratic bloc will vote against it and against the Bricker proposal.

"Paradoxically, it may come down to the point where we Democrats who are against this tampering with the Constitution make up the largest number of those in the Senate who are willing to stand behind the President on this issue," Humphrey said.

Quick Discharge Awaits 21 Red GIs Freed in Korea

WASHINGTON (U) — The 21 American soldiers who have refused to come home from Communist Korea will be declared "undesirable" and discharged tomorrow.

The undesirable discharge papers for the prisoners of war who declined to be returned have been completed by the Army after weeks of consultation with the Defense and State departments. The action will convert the soldiers into civilians "under conditions other than honorable."

Fear Legal Problem

The Pentagon chose this middle course in dealing with the 21 to avoid possible legal difficulties in the way of sterner action, and to leave a loophole for the men to clear themselves, should any of them get back to the United States.

N. Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Aircraft got a boost from federal spending proposals today and topped a rising stock market.

Douglas Aircraft was the prime mover, up 4 points to a new 1933-34 high of 89½, and other aircrafts followed along with gains of between 1 and 2 points in several cases.

Twenty-two per cent of the President's proposals for defense spending was allocated to aircraft.

Oil, Gas Driller Plans Job in Marion County

'Wildcat' Operator Seeking Deposits in Area Near Claridon

Possibility of oil and gas well drilling operations starting in Marion County sometime in the spring was reported today by Silas T. Doyle of Caledonia.

Harry Faber White, a professional "wildcat" oil well driller has become interested in attempting to reach oil in a suspected deposit located under Claridon and Scott Townships, Doyle said.

He and White have been negotiating for two years on the project and at present 13 easements have been obtained to permit drilling on various properties in the two townships.

Doyle recalled it was in this same area some 37 years ago that he promoted another such venture in which between 75,000 and 85,000 barrels of oil were removed from the ground. This project was forced to cease operations after "lease scalpers" moved in and tied up so much acreage in the area further development became impossible, he said.

Some of the best geologists in the state predict there is a very good chance oil is present in the area, according to Doyle. "I'm certain there is really a great field if it can be tapped," he said.

When or where actual drilling operations will begin is still not decided, but are expected to start as soon as the weather permits, he added.

Properties on which easements have been granted in Claridon Township are those owned by Doyle, Harley L. Foos, John P. Andresz, Stanley W. Baker, Richard A. Church, Grace P. Follock, Ray Reamsnyder, Merle Mattix, and James F. Ush. Those in Scott Township are owned by Mattix, Kenneth E. Longacre, William Däber, and Albert Zacharias.

Includes Vital Vitamin C

Grapefruit Aids Teen-Age Girls' Diets

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A teen-age girl in your family? Then keep an eye on what she's eating. According to the U. S. Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, teen-age girls have poorer diets than boys of the same age.

Vitamin C (ascorbic acid) is one of the food elements your teen-age daughter needs every day if she is to have sparkling health, because Vitamin C is important in the formation of bones and tissues. Citrus fruit is a great source of this vitamin and so, right now, while our generous crop of grapefruit is on the market, take advantage of this good fruit and feature it in your menus.

For breakfast, young people usually like grapefruit halves sweetened with honey or maple syrup. Use a little know-how when you are preparing the halves so they look attractive. With a small sharp knife remove any seeds and loosen the fruit by cutting around each individual section. Do not cut continuously around the entire outer edge of the fruit, this just makes the grapefruit hard to eat!

Sometimes you might like to sweeten the grapefruit halves with the syrup left from canned fruit. This is a good trick when you are broiling or baking canned pineapple rings or peach halves for meat garnishes or desserts and have the fruit syrup left over. In this case, cut around the grapefruit segments as we suggested, then snip out the centercore with a kitchen scissors or cut it out with a small sharp knife. Pour a little of the fruit syrup over the top of grapefruit, so that there's a little well of it in the core cavity.

Grapefruit, served hot, makes a delicious first course for dinner. Prepare the grapefruit halves, loosening the sections, removing any seeds, and the core. For four grapefruit halves, cream two tablespoons of butter or margarine and a dash each of cinnamon and nutmeg. Spread this mixture over the fruit, putting most of it near the core cavity. Broil several inches from the heat until the grapefruit is partly heated through, usually from three to five minutes.

Fresh grapefruit also makes wonderful salads. We like it particularly with avocado, crisp greens and French dressing. This combination is delectable with so many meats—ham, roast or broiled chicken, lamb chops or leg of lamb, and roast beef or steak. It's good, too, with broiled or grilled fish fillets.

As a pickup when your teenager gets home from school in the afternoon, or in the evening when she's studying, serve her this nutritious and delicious Nog. Older folks will like this drink, too, we do!

GAPEFRUIT NOG

Ingredients: 1 egg (separated), 1 cup fresh grapefruit juice (the unstrained juice from 1 grapefruit usually makes this amount), dash of salt, 2 teaspoons honey, nutmeg (freshly ground if possible).

Method: Beat egg white with rotary beater (hand or electric) until stiff. Without washing beater, beat egg yolk until it begins to get thick and lemon colored; gradually beat in grapefruit juice, then salt and honey. Combine grapefruit mixture and beaten egg white, beating gently. Pour into 14-ounce glass; sprinkle or grind a bit of nutmeg over top; serve at once. Makes 1 serving.

Local Barbershop Quartet Members Adopt New Name

The local chapter of the Society for the Preservation & encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America recently organized here has been named the Francis Marion Chapter, it has been announced by Walter Mathiot, temporary secretary of the group.

At the same time, he announced that the local group was expecting to receive its charter in the near future. At that time, permanent officers will be elected. The chapter here was started last October. Shortly later, temporary officers were named. James Bradshaw is temporary president, Frank Butterworth director and Mathiot secretary.

The local organization, which meets every Monday evening at the YMCA, now contains a membership of 27 men. Mathiot announced that any man was welcome to attend the meetings and join the group. He explained that men joining the group need not be able to sing. Mathiot said they could join the group for the fun of participating in group singing and just listening.

The international society was formed 10 years ago by a Tulsa, Okla., tax attorney and has been sweeping the country since.

ACCENT ON MANAGERS
ST. LOUIS (AP)—A manager's life was mighty rough in St. Louis just before the turn of the century. The Cardinals of 1895, '96 and '97 employed four managers in each of these years. The 1895 club was piloted by Al Buckenburger, Joe Quinn, Lewis Phelan and Chris Von der Ahe. In 1896 the managers were Harry Diddledock, Arlie Latham, Roger Connor and Tom Dowd. The 1897 Cardinals were led by Dowd, Hugh Nichol, Billy Hallman and Von der Ahe again.

Cardboard Camera Is Premium Item

NEW YORK (UP)—A camera the size of a calling card is the latest item developed for manufacturers to use as premiums to spur sales in 1954.

The cardboard camera costs just eight cents, takes a picture on verichrome film and can be re-used if the owner wants to go to the trouble to have it reloaded.

"It folds flat for mailing and won't be sold in any store, just given away as sales premiums," explained Robert Kaufman, president of the company which just introduced the cardboard camera. "We started developing it two years ago when business was so good no companies wanted to look at give-away items. We were tired of key rings and ash trays as sales premiums."

Now Kaufman and his business partner are having no trouble selling the idea to manufacturers, who plan to give it away with various products, including breakfast food, under various names, such as "spy camera."

It is an adaptation of the original pin-hole camera which was used extensively in Japan during World War II, Kaufman said.

Banks Advised On Drawing in New Customers

CHICAGO (UP)—Middle class families, with incomes of from $3,000 to $6,000 and with less than $2,000 in savings, are the largest market for savings' companies, according to a survey conducted for the United States Savings and Loan League. It disclosed that:

1. Fifty-nine per cent of American families now have savings accounts in a commercial bank, a savings and loan association, or a mutual savings bank.

2. Sixty-five per cent of these savers holding accounts at a savings and loan association and 67 per cent of those who save at a bank have annual incomes of less than $6,000.

3. Savers would rather know their funds are safe, available and at a convenient location than have a higher rate of return.

Norman Strunk, executive vice president of the league in Chicago said the survey results showed savings and loan advertising "must be directed to the income groups of $6,000 or less, if we are to hit the broadest market." He told 3,000 delegates to the league's convention here.

"Our advertising should start with an effort to attract the mind of the potential saver and the most effective method of doing this is to make appeals that play upon his basic human wants, such as to live longer and have more fun, to raise a family and send the children to college.

He said that once the advertising has caught the individual's attention secondary appeals could be used. These could include "convenience of service, the office hours, the parking facilities and rate of return to convince the prospect that he should choose our institutions as opposed to other financial institutions."

RETIREMENT DEFERRED

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Maryland's football team kept Dr. H. C. Byrd on the job two days longer than he expected. Byrd had planned to retire as University president on Dec. 31 after 18 years in that post. But Maryland's gridgers were picked to play Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl on Jan. 1. The University regents, wanting Byrd to witness the game as president of the institution set back the effective date of his resignation to Jan. 2.

Nellie Taylie Ross was the first woman to be governor of any state. She succeeded her husband, William Bradford Ross, as governor of Wyoming.

Defeat Seen on Hawaii-Alaska Issue

Ike Faces Rebuff Over Statehood Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—For a while it seemed President Eisenhower might be able to steer Hawaii into statehood without too much trouble. Then a member of his own party, Sen. Dworshak of Idaho, rocked the boat.

For more than 15 years congressional committees have battled around the question of letting the territories of Hawaii and Alaska become states. The Senate has been the bottleneck.

The House gave approval for Hawaii three times in 1947, 1950 and 1953, and for Alaska once, in 1950. The Senate, never for either.

Democrats and Republicans have talked about statehood for both territories for years, but most of the time in such wassal-words in their campaign platforms as favoring statehood "eventually."

In 1948 the Democrats got bold and favored "immediate" statehood for both. But former President Truman couldn't get the Democratic-controlled Congress to carry through. In their 1952 platform the Democrats repeated themselves.

In that year, with Eisenhower heading the ticket, the Republicans came out for "immediate" statehood for Hawaii but, for Alaska, admission, presumably not so speedily, under an enabling act.

Ironically enough, in the 1952 elections Alaska, Democratic for years, elected a Republican Legislature while in Hawaii, traditionally Republican, the Democrats made gains.

As soon as he got into the White House, Eisenhower asked his Republican-controlled Congress to let Hawaii into the Union.

The House okayed a statehood bill for Hawaii. But not the Senate. It was supposed to act this year. Two weeks ago Eisenhower again urged Hawaiian statehood, and again passed over Alaska.

If the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee sent up a bill on Hawaii alone, it might get quick action and might even pass the Senate. If then an Alaska bill came up later, or separately, Alaska would probably be pushed aside.

But if the committee sent up one bill combining Hawaii and Alaska, neither might get approval, since some senators want statehood for Alaska and some don't and there'd be a general mixup and maybe stalemate.

This week the committee, on which the Republicans have a majority, took up the question.

Before the voting, this was the outlook: only one Republican, Sen. Malone of Nevada, and all the Democrats—except Sen. Long of Louisiana, who had committed himself to Hawaii—favored a combined Hawaii-Alaska bill; and all the other Republicans would go for a single bill on Hawaii.

But the vote when it came—it was 8-7—was for a combined bill. Dworshak had voted with Malone and the Democrats. Why? He said later: "To force a showdown. This statehood thing has been kicking around since the year one."

Unless the full Senate itself separates the two territories when it gets the bill, Hawaii's chances of statehood this year don't look too good. Alaska this year, as last year, seems to have no chance at all.

So Eisenhower, who got his first victory this week with Senate approval of the St. Lawrence seaway, got his first real bump of 1954 on the statehood bill.

Woman Convinced Husband Figured Wrong, Pays Tax

DENVER — A Polish immigrant called at the Internal Revenue Service office here yesterday for advice on filing her income tax.

An agent labored over the return with the woman, then informed her she owed Uncle Sam $4.

"But my husband figured it all out last night," the woman pleasantly objected. "and the way he had it, you owe us $55."

So the agent reworked the form. He still came up with Uncle Sam owing $4. Without further ado, the woman paid, explaining with a smile: "That's all right. My husband was wrong last year too."

Husband Has Hard Time But Wife, Baby Do Fine

DALLAS — William Keller drove his wife to the hospital yesterday but found he had forgotten the baby clothes.

He started back home. A few blocks away he had a minor collision. Police warned him to drive carefully, then sent him on his way when he told of the emergency.

Keller started around a curve. His car shaved the railing from the left side of a wooden bridge, hit a ditch and overturned twice.

Famous Cosmetic Chemist Solves The Riddle Of "Deodorant Immunity"

New Stopette Formula Promises Continuing Effectiveness Even For Those With Special Problems

Perhaps you are one of the many, many women (or men!) who seem to build up an immunity to deodorants. After continued use, their deodorants become less and less effective until it's almost as though they used none at all.

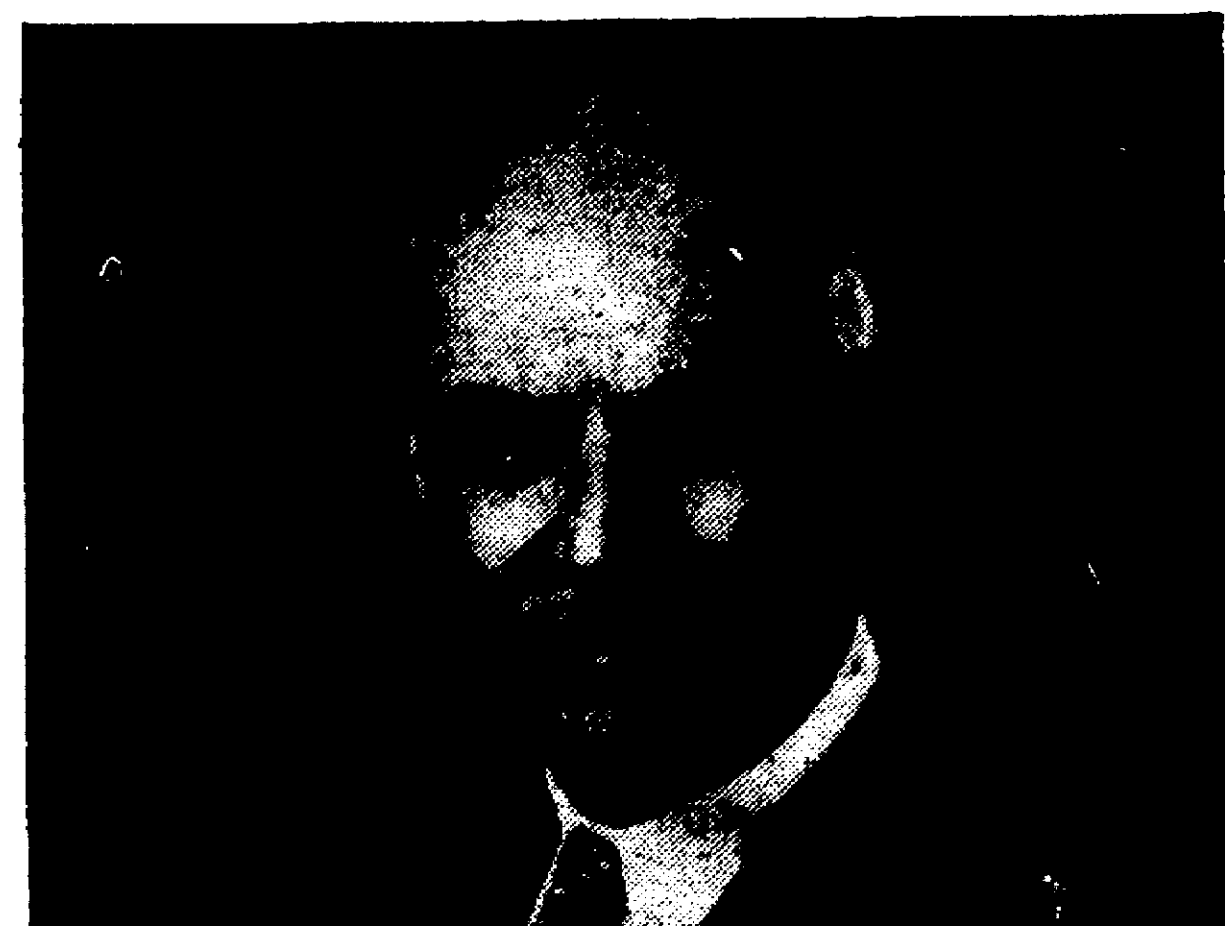

If you have been haunted by nagging doubts—if you have hopefully tried first one deodorant and then another, with little success, this announcement from Dr. Jules Montener will be thrilling news.

Dr. Montener, the world's leading authority on deodorants, has perfected a remarkable new formula for his famous Stopette Spray Deodorant—called New Stopette with the Anti-Immunity Factor. It is the first positive help for the thousands who tend to develop an immunity to usual deodorant formulas.

Works Three Ways
New Stopette with the Anti-Immunity Factor is a three-way formula with three-way action—

It effectively controls perspiration
It deodorizes instantly
It maintains a continuing effectiveness that builds up with daily use

Effectiveness That Can't Fade Away
You'll never grow immune to New Stopette. Because it grows in effectiveness with regular use. And New Stopette with the Anti-Immunity Factor is as wonderfully gentle . . . as pleasant to use . . . as the Stopette you've known in the past. Now this famous spray formula is even more effective. Gives you more and more protection as the days go by. Make the 45-Day Test of New Stopette, then—you be the judge.

Dr. Jules Montener, originator of Stopette, who personally developed the new Anti-Immunity Factor.

45-Day Trial Bottle FREE

Get this generous trial bottle of New Stopette with the Anti-Immunity Factor FREE when you buy the large $1.25 size. Use the trial bottle first. If not completely satisfied with the continuing effectiveness of New Stopette, return unopened $1.25 bottle for full refund.

Hospital Shows Profit in 1953

Auditor's Report Says Operation Nets $1,448

Marion City Hospital operated well within the "black" during 1953, City Auditor Elmer Shaw announced today.

During the year the hospital actually took in $1,448.82 more than it spent, he said. Total income was $682,319.27 while all expenses including supplies, salaries, maintenance and repair amounted to $680,870.45.

Shaw carefully pointed out that there was an outstanding purchase order for $6,070.92 at the close of business on Dec. 31. Had this order been received the operation would have been some $4,600 in the "red," he said.

However, the order was not delivered and will now be charged against hospital appropriations for this year, he explained.

Some of the income last year was also for services rendered during 1952 and was payments on accounts receivable, he added. Also some services rendered last year actually will not be paid for until this year and will show up as cash income for the hospital during 1954, not 1953, he further explained.

proving combat effectiveness by the application of new weapons and new techniques, including full realization of our nuclear capabilities, and provides for the rapid and orderly phasing of programs to improve continental defense against possible enemy attack."

Potential Will Increase

He continued: "Last summer I told the American people that 'the Soviets now have the capability of atomic attack upon us, and such capability will increase with the passage of time.' I made this statement shortly after it was established that the Soviet Union had successfully detonated a thermonuclear (hydrogen) device which, is successfully converted into an offensive weapon and if exploded over our American cities, would be capable of effecting unprecedented destruction."

"Our military planners and those of the other nations of the free world agree as to the importance of air power. But air forces must be complemented with land forces, amphibious forces, antiaircraft warfare forces, and fighting ships."

Relations to Policy

As outlined by a Defense Department spokesman, here is the way the budget for the year beginning next July 1 will relate to that policy:

Manpower for the armed services—Now about 3,400,000; will be 3,328,000 by next June 30 and 3,087,000 at the end of June 1955.

Army—Present strength 1 1/2 million; by next June 30 it will be 1,407,500; at the end of next fiscal year 1,164,000. By mid-1955 the organizational strength will be down to 17 divisions. For the first time, there is no request for authority for the Army to make new contracts for procuring major combat equipment; it will have left over from previous appropriations a total of $4,800,000,000.

The Army, like the other services, will build up in new weapons. At present there are 114 anti-aircraft battalions. By the end of this fiscal year there will be about 130. The goal is to increase the anti-aircraft force by more than 50 per cent.—with more than one-third of the units using the new Nike guided missile weapon.

Air Force—Present strength 920,000; next June 955,000; a year later 970,000. Present unit strength 110 wings (a wing ranges from 30 heavy bombers to 75 fighters); to be 121 by the end of fiscal year 1955; up to 127 at the end of the following year and to the present.

Fairfield Firm Promotes Kuhn

Named Vice President; President Re-elected

Julian H. Walker, president of the Fairfield Engineering Co. for the last six years, was re-elected to that post at the annual meeting of the firm's board of directors yesterday afternoon.

Wayne H. Kuhn, former sales manager, was elected to the position of vice president in charge of sales. Mr. Kuhn, who resides with his wife and two children at 357 Brightwood Dr., has been associated with Fairfield five-and-a-half years and has been sales manager two years.

Other officers re-elected were C. O. Brown, vice president; U. A. Nystrom, treasurer; and James H. Harmon, secretary. Stockholders of the firm held their annual meeting earlier yesterday afternoon and re-elected the same board of directors which had served during the previous year. Directors are Walker, Nystrom, John H. Clark, C. O. Brown, Edson L. Bush and Harry C. Lazear, all of Marion, and H. B. Walker of Athens.

custody in a smooth operation yesterday and today.

About 10,000 Chinese sailed for Nationalist Formosa from Inchon today and about 4,000 remaining were to leave later. The 7,500 Koreans were moved by train to South Korean army centers for processing.

The POW transfer was carried off without a serious hitch, but in Inchon harbor a troopship loaded with Chinese POWs rammed a small craft loaded with U. S. Marines and 24 Marines perished in the icy water. The Navy reported 28 other men rescued from the harbor.

declaring the men deserters. If this were done, any of the 21 who eventually returned to the United States would be liable for automatic arrest and court-martial. They could not actually be convicted of desertion without a trial at which they were present. Pentagon lawyers pointed out that the agreed armistice terms sought to guarantee the freedom to choose sides. Therefore, reasoned the lawyers, a charge of desertion might not be sustainable.

The moment the undesirable discharges become effective for the 21, their service pay will cease to accumulate. It will be difficult though not impossible for them to qualify for veterans benefits. The VA must decide each case. Should any of them ever come home he will still have the right to ask for a review of his discharge and be given an opportunity to show, if he can, that he was coerced into making his decision.

Submarine

For a ship unprecedented in design, the Nautilus was built with amazing speed. Her keel was laid by former President Truman June 14, 1952.

At about the same time the Westinghouse Corp., working under contract of the Atomic Energy Commission, began construction out on an Idaho desert of a land-based model atomic power plant. That power plant—designed around an atomic furnace using the uranium element U235 as fuel—develops steam for operation of a turbine. A copy of the power plant was constructed for the Nautilus herself.

Taxes

come taxes. They are due to drop April 1 to their pre-Korea levels, three billion dollars under present levels.

The revision program would reduce taxes an estimated two billion dollars annually when it reaches full effect in later years. It included one big surprise—changing the annual deadline for some 60 million individuals to file income tax returns from March 15 to April 15. A Treasury spokesman said there was no thought of making the change effective this year.

The President also called for bigger tax deductions for medical expenses, a new deduction for child-care expenses of working widows and widows, a new allowance for dependents who make more than $600, sharp cuts in taxes on income from dividends, and a tax break for single heads of households.

For business, he proposed more liberal immediate allowances for depreciation, a 14-percentage point drop in corporation taxes on income from branches abroad, immediately lowered taxes on research and development expenses, and easier treatment of retained earnings.

For farmers, the President urged a tax deduction for soil conservation expenses of up to 25 per cent of the farmer's gross income.

The message indicated these and other changes would save individuals about 585 million dollars and corporations about 630 million dollars on their tax bills for 1954—and more later.

The tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee already has started page-by-page action on the program, the product of more than a year's labor by congressional and Treasury staff experts.

As for the future, the President said: "Total government expenditures and taxes are now so high that we must choose our path carefully between inadequate revenues on the one hand and repressive taxation on the other."

"It is the determined purpose of this administration to make further reductions in taxes as rapidly as justified by prospective revenues and reductions in expenditures."

He said the excises scheduled for reduction April 1—on liquor, cigarettes, automobiles, gasoline, sporting goods, beer and wine—should be continued at present rates. "Any adjustments in the other excise taxes (should) be such as to maintain the total yield which we are now receiving from this source," he added, noting that excises "provide a relatively small proportion of our total tax revenues."

Kenton Man Fined On Larceny Charge

A Kenton man was fined $35 and costs when he pleaded guilty to two charges of petty larceny and intoxication in Marion Municipal Court today.

Ray Hamilton Wright, 45, was arrested at 1:12 p.m. yesterday at the Palace Bowling Alley on W. Center St. Police were called when one of the owners, Jerry Stephenson, caught Wright taking a bowling bag and three bottles of wine from a storage room. Police records reveal Wright has a record of grand larceny, breaking and entering, carrying concealed weapons, and vagrancy.

He was fined $25 and costs on the petty larceny charge and $10 on the intoxication charge in court today.

Unable to pay the fine he was committed to the Marion County jail. In court yesterday, Carl L. Wilkinson, 30, of 410 Clinton St., charged with disorderly conduct, was found not guilty and released. He previously had entered a plea of not guilty.

Baking was regarded as a fine art in ancient Rome when bakers enjoyed high prestige and special privileges.

Budget Message

phrey told newsmen the administration would again ask for 290 billion dollars borrowing authority, a boost of 15 billions.

No Forecasts on Balance

Both Humphrey and Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge, who met newsmen separately in briefing sessions, refused to forecast when the budget might be balanced. Both said efforts to bring outgo down to the level of income would not be relaxed.

This budget was the first one prepared by a national Republican administration in 21 years. All the recommendations, of course, are subject to approval by Congress.

There is considerable election-year sentiment there to reduce taxes further, a step which would swell the deficit unless corresponding cuts were made in spending.

Eisenhower said his tax program would result in about 600 million dollars tax relief each for individuals and for businesses, in addition to the changes that took effect Jan. 1: A 10 per cent cut in personal tax rates and abolition of the excess profits tax on corporations.

No Further Reductions

But he added:

"I do not believe the budgetary situation justifies any tax reductions beyond those involved in the proposed tax revision and in the tax changes which occurred on Jan. 1."

In the national security section of the message, Eisenhower declared:

"This budget is based on a new concept for planning and financing

Tax Dollar Breakdown

WASHINGTON — This is where the government would get each dollar to be spent in fiscal 1955 under the budget submitted to Congress by President Eisenhower today:

43 cents from individual income taxes.

31 cents from corporation income taxes.

16 cents from excise taxes—on such things as tobacco, liquor and gasoline.

6 cents from customs and other taxes.

4 cents from borrowing.

than he estimated six months ago.

His new fiscal 1954 estimates showed income about one billion dollars less than former President Truman estimated in his budget message to Congress a year ago. Spending was estimated about 734 billions less than Truman forecast, the new deficit figure was over 6 1/2 billions less than Truman's, and the debt predicted for next June 30 was four billion dollars under Truman's figure.

Eisenhower whacked appropriations requests as well as spending estimates, and commented that asking for less authority to spend was the high road to reduced spending.

He requested new appropriations of 56 1/4 billion dollars for the new fiscal year. That was about 4 1/2 billions less than new money requests in his revised fiscal 1954 budget, 15 1/4 billion less than Truman asked for fiscal 1954, 24 billion less than in fiscal 1953, and 35 billion less than the Korean War appropriations peak of 91 1/2 billion dollars in fiscal 1952.

Here are the highlights of Eisenhower's budget estimates for fiscal 1955, compared with his new fiscal 1954 estimates and with the totals for fiscal 1953:

Year Ending June 30, 1955

Spending $65,570,000,000

Revenue $62,642,000,000

Deficit $2,928,000,000

Appropri

Pollsters

Ours is a continuous government in the sense that a new administration continues the policies of its predecessor until, with the consent of Congress, they are replaced.

The pollsters, reporting that Eisenhower remains a popular figure, doubt that the Republicans can hold their majority in the House of Representatives.

If Eisenhower is to be able to function effectively, he needs a Republican majority in the Congress. Our system requires two parties and that the president should belong to one of them.

A BIPARTISAN president is not in the American system and efforts to establish such an order must fail and add to our confusion.

No pollster, by whatever mathematical formula, can in January estimate what the people will do at the polls in November. Nor is any one of them so prophetic as to be able to foretell the course of events. Not only in the United States but throughout the world, during the next months.

Therefore, the pollsters' guesses, implemented by adding machines, mean no more than yours or mine.

It is true that Eisenhower was elected on the slogan, "It is time for a change."

Whether the voters meant a change in personalities or policies, they did not give the new President a Congress sufficiently of his own partisanship to make such a change immediately effective.

If it was to be a change in personalities, he found himself hampered by phony Civil Service policies and the really important veterans' preferences.

IN THE AREA of changing policies, Eisenhower could take the initiative. But his inheritance of more than 20 years of expanding government, exorbitant taxes, profligate expenditures and a confusing pursuit of improvised policies, often conflicting, burdened him with continuing responsibilities which he had to pursue while planning changes.

This is in the nature of a paradox, normal to our system.

For the second session of the 83rd Congress, President Eisenhower has presented a systematic program designed to attack some of the problems facing this nation, such as the excessive cost of government, the modernization of the armed services, the rationalization of farm prices, etc.

How much of his program will be passed by the time the November elections take place, nobody can at the moment tell.

Valuable time can be wasted in Congress.

This might best be exemplified in the recent attempt to create an impasse over Sen. Joe McCarthy. It was a wholly unrealistic diversion that could have postponed the consideration of the Eisenhower program by a month. It failed.

NOW ANOTHER little business is developing over the effort of the Democratic senators, who walked out of the subcommittee on invest-gations, to return to it without loss of face.

They are very anxious to return and are negotiating secretly and indirectly to get back but on conditions which even if McCarthy were to agree to them would be meaningless except for face - saving. The only sensible procedure for them is to walk in through the same door that they walked out of.

They would prefer for McCarthy to send them gold-plated invitations which he is not called upon to do.

Sen. Carl Hayden is trying to make a fuss over this, but he can accomplish nothing except to delay the Eisenhower program to the disadvantage of the country.

Another confusing factor is the Bricker Amendment, which the people want but which the President and the State Department do not want.

Sen. Carl Hayden is trying to make a fuss over this, but he can accomplish nothing except to delay the Eisenhower program to the disadvantage of the country.

Failure to pass the Bricker Amendment may effectively split the Republican party at a critical moment when all elements in it seek union behind the Eisenhower program.

It is unfortunate that so strong an opposition to the Bricker Amendment manifests itself in the White House because after Congress passes it, the proposal must go to 48 state legislatures for acceptance before it can become law. Why tie up Congress this year over it, when the battle for or against it must still be fought in the state legislatures?

After all, if its opponents fear immediate ratification by the state legislatures, are they not opposing the people's will?

Welfare Funds

I am disturbed by a strange silence.

I heard no one speak out against a man who looked federal investigators right in the eye and sneeringly told them:

"I am accountable to nobody."

This man is, in a real sense, his brothers' keeper. Thousands of men paid him their greatest honor. They permitted him to be their labor leader. They permitted him to handle funds which were to care for their sick, their aged, their injured, their wives and their youngsters.

THREE SPECIAL funds to be specific.

Yet, when congressmen asked this man, Eugene James Williams, chief of the Teamsters Union Local 544 in Minneapolis:

"You have never rendered an account to anybody?"

He replied:

"No, it is not necessary. I am only accountable to myself on it."

When they asked Williams how much he was paid for directing these three welfare and pension funds, he said he did not know.

When the Congressional probers, during a recent hearing held in Detroit, inquired into the nature and amount of his expenses, Williams retorted that he wasn't sure. When they urged him to tell of his payments to his office help, he said that he was not familiar with the details of the fund's administration in that department because the girls and bookkeepers write their own checks and figure their own salaries "more or less." He just signs them, he advised the representatives of our government.

ALL OF WHICH provoked one of the questioners, Rep. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga.) to whip out with:

"What special ability do you have that made them elect you trustee of this fund, if you can't remember how much you paid yourself a month or the office girl?"

And out of Williams' great profundity came:

"Well, I could probably give you a very good reason. There is lots of them, why they elected me, because of a period of years in the city of Minneapolis I have gained a certain amount of confidence among some employers, and if I hadn't gained that confidence I don't think they would have hired me to handle their money. This is the employers' money."

It's other peoples' money. That's right.

Let's be sophisticated about this. Whom else do you think the union would have approved as the director of the three funds? As a passing historical note, let me report that Mr. Williams is elected without opposition by a ballot cast by the union secretary. He happens to be the union secretary. So, for appearance's sake, one of his colleagues casts it for him.

IT'S ALL LEGAL. By acclamation of those present at the election—some 300 of the union's 4,000 members.

When asked to identify his office help, he revealed that:

"I have had three different persons working on those books; the first two were my stepdaughters. In fact, they are all my stepdaughters."

Mr. Williams runs sort of a

By Victor Riesel

ladies' auxiliary because he is kind to his family. For when the probers examined his tax return, they found it a joint statement by Mr. and Mrs. Williams. Asked for the source of her income, he disclosed that she was the union's bookkeeper at about $80 or $85 or $90 a week. Her husband was not sure.

Then they got around to a $10,000 advance on Williams' salary as administrator of the welfare funds. This went towards payment on a bar and grill costing over $100,000.

Williams borrowed from many other sources, he testified. One of these was the union's cash, held in an office safe. That loan came to $1,800. The cash came from insurance companies, whose practice it is to reimburse the union for handling welfare fund records.

THIS SAVES the insurance companies the chore of keeping files, more easily run by the union. Williams revealed that the cash just sat in the office safe. All legal. So he borrowed. All legal. He wanted to buy a Cadillac. He always buys Cadillacs. The proletariat must ride well, you know.

Yet this man says he is accountable to no one. And there are hundreds such welfare funds and administrators, handling hundreds of millions of dollars, just as there are many thousands run by labor leaders who do consider themselves accountable to their brethren.

As we will discover soon enough. For the Department of Justice has just begun tackling the study of union welfare funds suggested by President Eisenhower in his labor message to Congress. I can now reveal. Perhaps when this study is finished, there will be no silence.

Nautilus

NEW YORK (AP)—If you were fitting out a new submarine, what kind of pictures would you hang on the walls?

This was one of the problems faced by a commercial designer.

HAL BOYLE, ing firm called in by the U. S. Navy to make the Nautilus, the world's first atom-powered submarine, a comfortable underwater home to the sailors who man her.

"We thought pictures of peaceful country scenes would be more restful," said Walter P. Margulies, partner in the firm of Lippincott and Margulies. "But some Navy men figured pictures of famous fighting ships would be more inspiring."

No final decision has been made.

Margulies previously had designed everything from motor cars to cocktail lounges, from vacuum cleaners to soup and beer can labels, and one of his firm's beer can labels won first prize in a national contest.

But he found his two-year job of making the new submarine more habitable one of the most challenging of his career. And the result would amaze the shade of John Paul Jones. It is a submarine's dream.

The Nautilus is able to stay submerged for two months and sail around the world in that time. But men in close quarters often get on each other's nerves, and fighting efficiency falls off with lowered morale.

"Our task was to use color and design to fight monotony, improve living conditions, and provide as much privacy and variety as was possible," said Margulies.

In the battle control areas of the Nautilus the colors are crisp and sharp, the lights brighter, and even the equipment control knobs are rough to the hand—to keep the crew alert.

In the relaxation areas the reverse psychology is employed. Colors are subdued, noise is minimized, and there are no plaid patterns—as complicated patterns have been found to increase seasickness.

What does the Nautilus have that John Paul Jones lacked aboard his ships?

"Well, the crew quarters on sailing vessels in the 18th century were only about 4½ feet high," said Margulies. "In the Nautilus there are separate decks for the officers and crew, and plenty of room to stand upright."

"The mess hall has yellow walls and red seats. Each sailor has a fluorescent bed lamp, and he sleeps on a foam rubber mattress. He can sit up without bumping his head on the bunk above him, and the men don't have to sleep nose-to-toe as in the old days.

"There are outlets for electric razors, showers, a phonograph with plenty of records, a movie projection machine, and library shelves. Each man has a personal locker by his bunk, instead of a duffle bag. There is even a place inside the locker compartment where he can hang a picture of his favorite pinup girl—and keep her to himself."

"The crew messroom can be cleared and hold the entire ship's company for Sunday church services. It can also be used as a gym for boxing matches or calisthenics. No, there isn't space to play basketball, but it is big enough for table tennis."

"Our aim was to have a well-rounded pattern of comfort—so that a sailor could leave a duty post, take a few steps and enter as home-like an atmosphere as possible. Cutting down the hardships reduces the tensions of underseas life in crowded quarters."

"Paying attention to human needs pays off in higher morale, and we have only scratched the surface so far in making fighting machinery more adaptable to the men who fight with it."

Naturally, the Nautilus will carry an ice cream freezer. As any infantryman knows, the modern Navy rarely steams into battle without a full supply of ice cream. But the doughboy would like to do it, too, if he could just figure out a way to carry it.

Delicious Soup Is a Good Lunch Dish

Lobster and Mushrooms
With Vegetables Make A Tasty Chowder

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A hostess trick from a famous cook book author! Irma Rombauer, the distinguished and charming author of "The Joy of Cooking" (Bobbs-Merrill), has been visiting in New York City, and while I was cooking dinner for her at my house one night, she let me in on one of her own secrets.

Mrs. Rombauer lives in St. Louis and has a small country house in the Ozark foothills. It's in the country that she has lots of company during weekends; it's there, she says, that she finds it a big help to serve soup as a first course. She ladles it into cups and brings it to her guests — before they sit down to table — on a tray. Then as they are enjoying this, she says, she has time to put the last touches on the main course and get it ready to be brought to the table as soon as she has seated her guests. This is of course, a fine idea for the hostess who has to be cook and waitress, too.

That conversation started us on an Ode to Soup. Mrs. Rombauer and I are both devoted to this good course, and we agree that a hearty and delicious soup is a wonderful main dish for a company lunch or Sunday night supper. You can serve a salad after it if you like. Or you can follow it with an assortment of cheese, offered — as they do in France — with crusty bread and sweet butter.

It goes without saying that a substantial dessert should follow a soup meal. A good choice would be a favorite of Irma Rombauer's — nut cake.

If you like the idea of an easy-to-get soup meal, we urge you to try this Lobster Chowder. Our taste-testers were enthusiastic about its combination of flavors, about its combination of flavors.

Out-of-This-World Chowder, Made With Lobster, Mushrooms and Vegetables.

LOBSTER CHOWDER

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ cup finely diced onion, ½ cup finely diced celery, 1½ cups water, 1 small bay leaf, mixed vegetables (defrosted), one 3-ounce can chopped broiled mushrooms, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, one 8 ounce can tomato sauce, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, one 6½ ounce can rock lobster.

Method: Melt butter in saucepan over moderate heat. Add onion and celery; cook 5 minutes, stirring often. Add water, bay leaf and contents of package of defrosted vegetables. Cover and bring to boil. Cook until vegetables are barely tender, from 5 to 10 minutes. Remove bay leaf. Drain mushrooms, reserving broth. Mix mushroom broth with cornstarch until smooth; add to saucepan, stirring constantly until liquid thickens. Add drained mushrooms, tomato sauce, milk, salt and pepper. Coarsely flake lobster and add. Heat slowly to serving temperature; do not boil. Simmer a few minutes and serve. Makes 4 generous servings.

Monkey Business Leaves

Art Commissioner Cold

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was a hard test, but Edward J. Currier passed with flying colors an examination to determine his fitness as municipal art commissioner.

City Councilman Harold Harby, a foe of modernistic and impressionistic art, says he showed Currier two pictures from a magazine and asked his opinion.

Currier said he considered them poor examples of art. That satisfied Harby.

The pictures, Harby admitted, were drawn by two monkeys.

Television vs. Your Rugs and Carpets

Many of us do not realize the extra wear the television room gets — particularly on your rugs or carpets. An exciting play, game, or contest, the shuffling of your feet or digging of your heels in the carpet to help your favorite come out on top — all this wears the nap of your floor covering.

It is estimated that "just sitting" and watching TV puts more wear on your floor covering than it receives in years of normal wear.

Here are a few suggestions which will increase the wear of your floor coverings in your TV room.

1. Vacuum often. Dust and grit tend to cut the pile of your floor covering when feet are shuffled about.
2. Always have a pad under your rug or carpet. This will reduce wear to a minimum.
3. Reverse your rug two times a year or oftener. This lessens wear and tear in those spots where your favorite chairs are customarily placed.
4. If you have wall-to-wall carpeting change the position of your chairs and TV periodically.
5. Put small throw rugs in front of the sofa, love seat and favorite lounge or occasional chairs.
6. Buy good grades of carpeting or rugs. One good rug will out wear two or three of lesser quality.

Following the above rules will greatly increase the wear of your rugs and carpets.

Eye Huge Potential Market in Russia

British Chafe Under Red Trade Rules

By SYLVIA SHORT
LONDON (NANA) — At the end of this month 30 top-level British businessmen are flying to Russia for discussions with the all-union chamber of commerce in Moscow. The leader of the group is J. E. Scott, sales director of Crompton Parkinson Limited, one of the biggest firms of manufacturing electrical engineers in Britain.

The group, which has the backing of the Board of Trade, expects to be in Moscow from 10 to 14 days. It will include representatives from some of Britain's major industries, including shipbuilding, automobile and electrical equipment manufacturing. Importers of Russian goods will also be in the party.

Scott said that two representatives of his own firm visited the Soviet Union last summer and obtained an order for power cable amounting to £370,000 ($1,036,000). "The Russians seem to have plenty of dollars," he said. "They offered us the choice of having payment in sterling or American dollars." His firm took payment in sterling.

"We expect to obtain definite contracts from this visit," he said. "As do many of our colleagues. The Russians are extremely friendly and cooperative and are just as anxious as we are to develop trade relations."

THERE IS OBVIOUSLY an enormous potential market in a country of 200,000,000 people. Once the embargo is lifted on the sending of certain strategic goods to the Soviet Union there will be a very rapid expansion of trade between Britain and Russia.

Scott explained that firms represented on the forthcoming trip checked with the Board of Trade to insure that the goods which they manufacture are not on the list of forbidden strategic materials. "It is often difficult," he added, "to know what is forbidden and what is not. Products which are very similar to those on the list are, in fact, allowed to be exported."

Some firms believe that the goods they produce may be banned for export now but will be cleared in the near future. In view of this, they think it is worth while to have discussions with the Russians at this time. Scott said that as soon as the export ban on goods which come under the heading of strategic materials is lifted, he expects trade to develop rapidly between Britain and China.

THERE IS A HUGE potential market in China for British goods. He believes that the Chinese are as anxious to develop trade relations with Britain as are British businessmen with China. "Chinese businessmen are very friendly toward the British," Scott said, "and as soon as the embargo on certain goods is lifted there should be very rapid development in this field."

Britain's chief rival for Russian trade is Germany. However, the Soviet exports millions of dollars worth of grain, seeds, flour, nuts for oil, foodstuffs and a vast quantity of furs to Britain each year.

British exports to Russia include all kinds of electrical equipment, diesel engines, machinery, iron and steel, herring and re-exported rubber.

Many members of the party will return home via Warsaw. The Poles are extremely anxious to develop trade with Britain and have, in fact, invited the whole group to visit Warsaw on their way back to London. Several firms have, however, had to decline the offer. While they are in Moscow the businessmen will be looked after and entertained by the all-union Chamber of Commerce, who will allocate chauffeur-driven cars and interpreters to them and arrange visits to the opera and theatre.

Scott emphasized that political differences do not in any way affect their trade negotiations. "Politics," he said, "are never mentioned."

Ordinance To Be Read Publicly; Rail Crossing Fund Campaign Lags

Announcement of completion of a Marion Township zoning ordinance and scheduling of a public meeting to discuss it were made at a meeting of the Civic Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce at the Harding Hotel yesterday noon.

Speaking for the Township Planning sub-committee, Dr. J. W. Bull reported the ordinance, which defines residential, commercial and industrial zones, and lists restrictions on nuisances, types of construction and the like, will be read publicly at a meeting at the YMCA at 8 p.m. on Feb. 11.

He also reported the sub-committee is continuing discussions of the problems of township sewage disposal, and the Columbia St., and Quaker ditches which create unpleasant odors during summer months.

In another sub-committee report, J. E. Oliphant of the Civic Planning Committee reported on the drive for funds for a proposed grade crossing elimination and traffic survey for the city. The fund raising is moving slowly and something needs to be done for this project, he said.

Harvey G. Foster Firearms Expert

New Cincinnati FBI Agent Crack Shot

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Harvey G. Foster, agent in charge of the Cincinnati office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, never fired a revolver until he joined the FBI in 1939. But here's a friendly tip: Don't challenge him to a duel.

If you do, you'll probably wind up dead.

The graying Foster, a native of Indianapolis and graduate of Notre Dame, is inclined to shrug off his sharp-shooting prowess but people who know say he's recognized as one of the finest marksmen in the country.

Foster is quick to point out that the FBI has a number of agents who, like him, rate as firearms experts and instructors. They can do straight and trick shooting that rates with the best.

One of their jobs is to give lectures and demonstrations on firearms, trick shooting and marksmanship to law enforcement groups. Foster says trick shooting has a purpose, aside from entertainment.

"One of the purposes of such shooting," he states, "is to show law enforcement officers that you can shoot accurately from almost any position if you practice."

Foster is a soft-spoken individual who might be suspected of not knowing which end of a gun to hold.

But give him a weapon — machinegun, shotgun, revolver, pistol — and the picture changes. Go with him to the target range and this is what you'll see:

He'll split a playing card in half with a .38 caliber revolver even though the card may be swaying in a breeze; he'll shoot right and left-handed with revolvers and break two clay targets simultaneously; He'll break clay targets by shooting between his legs, while lying on his back and shooting over his head; holding the revolvers sideways and then upside down; He'll draw revolvers with right and left hands and, firing simultaneously, rip what would be the "innards" of two men with bursts from both guns.

Aerial shooting is another part of his trick shooting act. Using either a .22 or .30 caliber rifle, Foster tosses an apple, an orange, a grapefruit or a cabbage into the air, holding the rifle in the other hand. He blasts them so completely that the fruit or vegetable is often get a shower of juice or oil slaw.

The fellow doesn't even have to look at his target. Using his finger ring to reflect a singing clay pigeon, he fires over his shoulder with the .38 revolver. That ends the pig-eon.

Foster likes competitive target shooting and "dearly loves" to hunt, but he doesn't have much to describe properly the American time for either. He won the Indiana state indoor target shooting championship a couple of times before and he gets to shoot in competition here on occasion.

What does it take to make an expert marksman?

"The three main things," Foster said, "are good instruction, an interest in shooting and practice."

If you're still interested in challenging Foster to a shooting match, yesterday when his car hit a pole here's another tip: He'll probably

Colorful Jail

AMERICAN FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Colorful is just about the only way to describe properly the American jail.

The walls are leaf-green. The floor is maroon. And the cell bars are silver.

The jail was empty for a few days recently and Power County commissioners said it seemed a good time to redecorate.

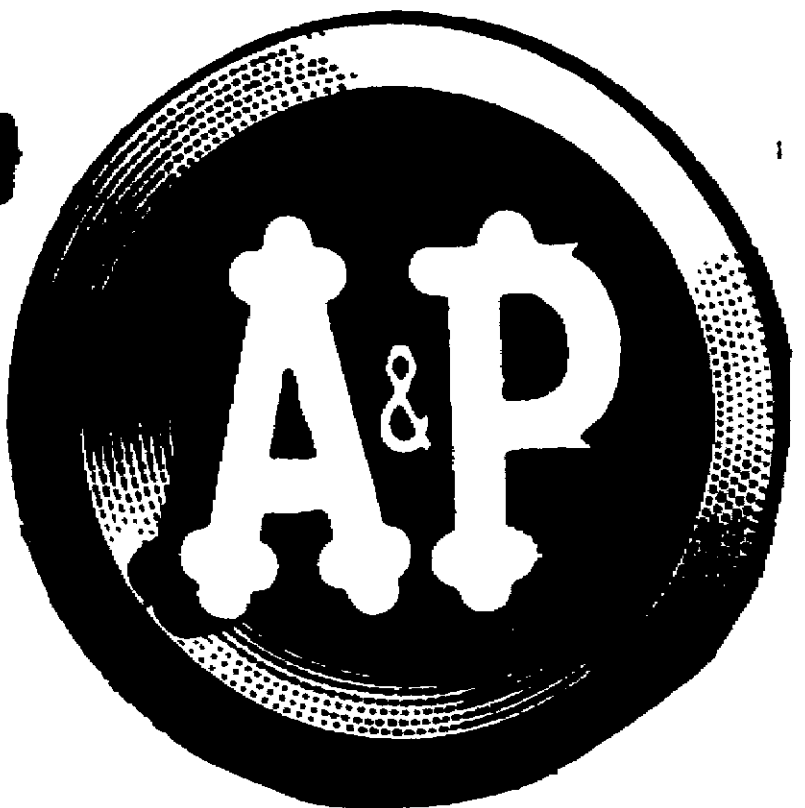

KILLED IN CRASH

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Clifford F. Boyer, 56, was injured fatally yesterday when his car hit a pole near Greenville.

Prexies Travel to Tiffin for Buckeye League Battle

Both Teams To Be Seeking First Wins in Loop Action

Harding takes to the road tomorrow night in hopes of bringing its 5-4 record back up to the .500 mark.

The opposition will be a Tiffin Columbian team that has been able to register only two wins in its eight starts. The game will mark the end of first round play in the Buckeye League and will find each of the two teams after its first loop victory in five attempts.

Columbian's record could be deceiving. Although Tiffin has won only two and lost six, it has managed throughout the season to total the same number of points as its opponents—418.

Columbian has lost its four previous league games by a total of only 22 points. Meeting the same opponents, Harding lost out by a total of 77 points.

In league play Tiffin lost to Fostoria 59-57, Findlay 51-47, Fremont 52-49, and Bowling Green 50-37. Facing that same competition, the Prexies bowed to Fostoria 79-43, Findlay 55-46, Fremont 72-43 and Bowling Green 76-53.

Tiffin's other losses have been to Sandusky 64-57 and Bucyrus 55-31.

The remainder of Harding's record includes wins over Bexley 61-47, Galion 72-38, Willard 96-35, Columbus Aquinas 66-57 and Shelby 67-59 with losses to Columbus West 74-71 and Ashland 78-55.

Columbian won't send a tall team on to the court Friday night, its tallest man being center Dick Weinberger who stands at 6-1. The rest of the probable starting lineup has the team's high-scorer,

Pro Cagers To Tangle Tonight in All-Star Tilt

NEW YORK (AP)—The annual East-West All-Star game of the National Basketball Association is scheduled for Madison Square Garden tonight and if reputations means anything, the Eastern delegation should win it.

Coach Joe Lapchick of the New York Knickerbockers, who is directing the East team, boasts nine of the loop's top 11 point-getters.

The West team, coached by John Kundla of Minneapolis, figures to rely on George Mikan to lead the attack.

Tribe To Play 10 Doublebills, 8 on Sundays

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' home schedule for the coming season includes 10 doublebills—eight of them on Sundays, and none at all in July when the All-Star Game will be played here on the 13th.

Only holiday twin bill at the stadium will be a Memorial Day holiday meeting with the Chicago White Sox on Monday, May 31. The White Sox are opponents for the Tribe's first home doubleheader April 18. Philadelphia and Baltimore also appear here in two doubleheaders, and the other league teams come for one twin bill each.

Detroit, the Tribe's foe in the season opener April 15, will play a doubleheader Thursday, Aug. 19. This first week-day twin bill in many seasons resulted because the Indians wanted to postpone the second game of the season instead of playing on Good Friday.

The 1954 night game schedule for Cleveland, previously announced, has 30 games listed. That leaves only 27 of the 77-game home card as single day games.

Ohio Gridders Named

NEW YORK (AP)—Three Ohio high school players have been named to the high school All-Star football squad chosen by five national scholastic magazines.

In all, 77 boys were named. The Ohioans are Bruce Schram, a tackle from Massillon, and centers William Kerr of Steubenville and William Van Buren of Lorain.

Curt Simmons Signs; No New Holdouts Listed

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball clubs for the first time found contract signing on the brighter side today. Twenty-four hours had gone by without a single new holdout developing. Meanwhile, thirteen players, including pitcher Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies and catcher Sherman Lollar of the Chicago White Sox, signed for the 1954 season.

Simmons, the first of a long list of dissatisfied Phils to come to terms, reached an agreement after a short huddle with club Secretary George Fletcher.

Lollar became the 19th of 41 White Sox players to sign. Others to come to terms included pitchers Bubba Church, Howie Pollet, rookie Bob Hartig and catcher Hal Meek of the Chicago Cubs; outfielders Bob Borkowski and Wally Post, Cincinnati Redlegs; infielder Bob Micelotta, Phils; utility outfielder Pat Mullen, Detroit Tigers; Jose G. Santiago, rookie pitcher of the Cleveland Indians and catcher Wilmer Shantz, brother of Bobby with the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Boston Red Sox received signed contracts from catcher Del Wilber and coaches Del Baker, George Susce and Paul Schreiber. The Chicago White Sox hired Rogers Hornsby as a batting instructor for the pre-season farm club school at Hollywood, Fla.

Bolt, Littler Top Field For San Diego Tourney

RANCHO SANTA FE, Calif. (AP)—The $15,000 San Diego Open Golf Tournament gets under way today and Tommy Bolt, the 1953 winner, would seem to be the leading contender in the field of 137 professionals and amateurs.

But the home folks established a noted local attraction, National Amateur champion Gene Littler, the favorite.

Logic behind this is that young Littler has demonstrated he can play right along with the pros and further, he knows the tournament course like a book.

17th Straight Western Kentucky Cagers Notch No. 600 for Diddle

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Diddle, sports writers and now own a Western Kentucky's 58-year-old silver-thatched basketball coach, longest of any major college in the country. Duquesne, which was idle and began looking ahead in terms of becoming the winningest mentor of all-time.

Diddle's Hilltoppers polished off Tennessee Tech last night 62-51 to remain one of the seven undefeated teams in the country. More important, the triumph was the 600th victory of Ed's career, all spent at Western Kentucky.

Diddle now has only one more mark to shoot at and if he sticks around long enough, he might make it despite a bad heart. Phog Allen, Kansas coach, has a record of 737 victories and 212 defeats. But his record includes duty at four different schools. So Diddle actually has won more games than any coach who has stayed with the same team.

The Hilltoppers are No. 4 in the weekly Associated Press poll of the second time this season 76-61.

Most of the major schools had the night off, but Norwich and Erskine, two of their small brothers who have yet to taste defeat emerged triumphant again. Norwich won No. 12 by stopping Middlebury 75-70 in a Vermont Conference game, and Erskine ran its skin to 11 by thumping Newberry 81-67.

Newberry, incidentally, has a record in reverse. The school has been beaten in every one of its 13 starts. But that still doesn't match Georgia Tech, which went down to defeat No. 16 without a victory at the hands of Auburn 30-56.

Dayton won its 12th game in 16 starts, defeating Seton Hall for the second time this season 76-61.

Course in Hunting Safety To Be Opened in County

A county-wide "Hunter Safety Course" to combat hunting accidents has been announced by the Marion County Fish and Game Protective Association and Carl Knirk of 714 Mt. Vernon Ave., a director - at - large of the League of Ohio Sportsmen which is sponsoring the courses in Ohio.

Knirk is a member of a League committee whose job it is to interest local Fish and Game Associations in instructing the courses.

First Time
Originated several years ago in New York state, the hunter safety education course is being offered here for the first time. It is available to all sportsmen of Marion County on a volunteer basis in all communities of the county through the facilities of the county Fish and Game Protective Association.

Based on the results of the successful "Hunter Safety Program" in New York, the county association will offer the four-hour course in four one-hour classes a week. Each class will cover gun operation, proper gun handling, techniques of shooting and the responsibilities of the hunter in the field. The classes are designed to benefit inexperienced hunters, regardless of their age.

Individuals, civic groups or clubs interested in the new program may secure further details by contacting the secretary of the Fish and Game Association, Charles Cocherl, at 509 N. Greenwood St.

Local officials of the Fish and Game Association point out that the ratio of hunting accidents to the number of licenses issued yearly is small, but nevertheless, the number could be reduced. They say research has shown that the vast majority of hunting accidents are the results of carelessness or a lack of knowledge of proper gun handling. The answer to the problem of reducing gun accidents in the field lies in education, members say.

Started in 1949
The program began in 1949 in the state of New York when a law making it mandatory that any person under 17 years of age had to pass a course of instruction in "safe gun handling" before he could be issued his initial hunting license. The age limit was later changed to 21.

Instructions were first given by state game protectors in New York state but it was found they couldn't conduct the courses and still do their regular work in the fields. The National Rifle Association was called on to furnish instructors and teach the classes of young hunters.

The idea of the League of Ohio Sportsmen sponsoring the course program in Ohio was presented when several directors of the League spent a weekend at the National Rifle and Pistol matches at Camp Perry, O., last fall. Members of the League directorate were impressed with the ideas contained in the course and took action at the next regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the League of Ohio Sportsmen, accepting sponsorship of the course in Ohio.

The NRA has suggested that the classes be limited to 10 or 12 students and the ages of the students be from about 13 years upward. Persons passing the course can carry a registration card and an identification card which states that he has completed the course of instruction in gun safety and an emblem for his shirt or jacket.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Many fans left the Coliseum Tuesday night convinced they had just watched the best Class B team in the state in action. Delphos St. John had just laced St. Mary 64-47.

The Blue Jays fielded a team which averaged 6-2 in height and simply outplayed the Irish quintet. The glowing estimate of the visitors' statistical chances wasn't unanimous, however. Some felt the Delphos height made the team an outside threat but no serious contender.

Loyal Irish fans were of the opinion the Irish could whip the visitors should the two teams meet again. And they had several points on which to base their claims.

Despite the height disadvantage, the Irish managed to stay in the game until the third period. They kept pace in the second quarter despite one of their poorest shooting performances in years. During that period, St. Mary hit on only one of 12 attempted field goals.

FOR THE game, St. Mary hit on 26 per cent of its shots, lowest mark of the season. That was enough for Barney Altwell, who proceeded to tear the Irish apart with his long set shots.

Fans who had watched Ashland's Ken Sidle score 36 points against Harding during the Christmas vacation agreed Altwell looked to be a better all-around performer than the Arrow star.

RIO REPORT. Newt Oliver takes his Rio Grande quintet and Bevo Francis into Ashland the night of Feb. 23 for a meeting with Ashland College. The game was originally scheduled for the college gym.

However, officials of the school decided to shift the game to the Ashland High School gym where 1,500 fans can be seated. The college gym seats only 868.

Bob Dixon, sports editor of the Ashland Times Gazette, tells us 300 tickets were saved for the Ashland College students body and the rest placed on sale. Ashland fans, anxious for a look at Bevo and his mate, Dick Barr, an Ashland product, gobbled up the tickets in less than one day.

AC Hoop Squad Ties for First In YMCA Play

The Marion AC moved into a percentage tie for first place with Green Camp Elevator in YMCA Open and Industrial play last night by capturing their fifth straight game.

The evening was also featured by the individual and team scoring record for the season as Harold Dillion and his Marion Industries team tossed in 85 points for the best team effort of the year. Dillion heaved in a total of 44 points to record the best individual scoring effort of the season.

The AC's dropped Bird-McGinnis 45-38 for their fifth straight win to match the Green Camp Elevator squad which has taken six straight. The Legion five took a 10-5 first quarter lead but was able to score only four points in the second period as the AC's came on with 14 to take a 19-14 half-time lead. They were able to hold the lead until mid-way in the final period when Bird-McGinnis tied up the game at 33-all. From that point the AC's moved ahead and finished with a seven-point edge. Brown was the AC's leading point getter with 13 while Tick Moran had 12 for the losers.

Marion Industries rolled up the highest team scoring effort for the season by defeating the UAW-CIO 85-39 in the second game. The losers took an early lead but soon dropped far behind as a stout defense bottled up their scoring attack and Dillion broke loose in a record individual scoring spree. Dillion poured in 10 points in the first half and 34 in the final 16 minutes of play. His total of 44 points came on 17 connections from the field and 10 from the free-throw line. Bob Richie once again paced the UAW five with a total of 19 points.

Marion Power Shovel defeated McMillen Feed in the other game 63-57. The Shovel worked into a comfortable 11-point lead by the opening of the final period and came close to blowing it as the McMillen five poured in 21 points in the final eight minutes. With a little more than a minute remaining, the Shovel held a three-point edge and although the losers had three chances to tie up the game from the foul line, they held on and added a bucket and foul to ice the game in the final 25 seconds. Elmer Busler and Bob Apt pace the Shovel with 12 and 10 points respectively while Gruber with 1 was high man for the McMillen team.

Prospect Meets LaRue

Morrall Seeking Eighth Win In County Cage Loop Chase

Rolling on toward the Marion County League cage title, Morrall's front-running Wildcats seek their eighth straight league win in Friday's county loop session while their nearest rival, Prospect, attempts to stay in contention for league honors with its seventh victory.

Meanwhile, Claridon and LaRue will be battling it out for undisputed possession of third spot in the county standings at Claridon. Both take 5-2 league marks into the fray. Coach Ted Denison's LaRue Indians moved in to third with Claridon last week by upsetting Prospect while Claridon bowed to Meeker.

While Morrall, 7-0, is at Caledonia, Prospect—with a 6-1 loop rating and attempting to offset last week's surprise loss to LaRue—will entertain Waldo. The visitors are currently deadlocked with Meeker for fourth spot in the county league with a 4-3 slate. Morrall's opponent, Caledonia, has won only two league starts in eight outings and is tied with Green Camp for seventh spot in the league, just above last-place Martel, 0-7.

Meeker will attempt to retain its fourth place slot when it travels to New Bloomington. The hosts are owners of a 3-4 mark in the league play, standing fifth in the standings. The lone remaining league contest finds Green Camp at Prospect. Pleasant will be out to protect its slim advantage over seventh-place Green Camp. Pleasant has a 2-5 league mark while Green Camp appearing in one more league game, is 2-6 in county league action.

Winless Martel will have the week off from county league activity but will be meeting its alumni.

Pleasant's Jerry Gorby is currently leading all county league scorers with 133 points in seven games for a 19-point average. Morrall's John Craycraft with 125 markers ranks next while a team mate, Clair Hensel, is close on his heels with 122 markers.

LaRue's Larry Hickman has 116 points and is followed by Gene Cooper, a team mate, with 115; Kenneth Barden of Martel with 106; Wood of Prospect and Ronald Newland of Meeker, each with 100; Dick Sharp of Meeker with 98; Al Stover of Green Camp with 95; and Bob Rodgers of Prospect with 93.

Waldo's Keith Augenstein, missing the last three league games due to mumps, still has 73 points to his credit.

Edison Juniors Crush Green Camp Team 55-21

George Whitehead's Edison charges rolled by Green Camp's junior high cagers 55-21 on the Edison school floor yesterday.

The visitors held on for one quarter, trailing only 11-6 at the opening quarter, but Edison put the game out of Green Camp's reach in the second period by outscoring the opposition 16-1 for a 27-7 advantage.

Bob Lister paced the winners attack with 16 points. Tom Mercer and Phil Sykes each added eight while Gary Williams hit for seven and John Hathaway dropped in six.

In a preliminary reserve tilt, Edison edged Grand Prairie 43-40, largely on Bob Klingel's 26 points. Edison sees its next action Saturday night at the Coliseum, meeting St. Mary in a tilt scheduled for 6 p.m. prior to the Irish-Columbus Holy Rosary contests.

10 New Liquor Permits Issued

Brings Total to 40 Granted in Six Weeks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state liquor department today issued 10 new liquor permits, bringing the number issued in the last six weeks to 40.

Liquor Director Anthony A. Rutkowski stressed the state's five-year "freeze" on permits remains in effect. The permits issued in the last six weeks were based on one or the other of two developments:

1. A recent Hamilton County court decision which requires the department to grant permits up to the level of permits in force when the freeze was invoked April 11, 1949.

2. An act of the 100th General Assembly last year which requires the department to issue private-club permits to local units of national veterans and fraternal organizations.

Permits issued today included:

Athens County—Millard A. DeLong, 85 W. Washington St., Nelsonville, night club.

Jackson County—Benevolent & Protective Order of Elks 466, 316 Main St., Jackson, private club.

Pickaway County—Henry Page Folsom Jr., Post 3331, 217 N. Court St., Circleville, private club.

Cincinnati Attorneys Facing Disbarment

CINCINNATI (AP)—Three judges of the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court today had under advisement disbarment proceedings against John R. Lewis Jr. and Roy C. Anderson, Cincinnati attorneys. Anderson is a former U.S. narcotics agent.

The judges took the case under consideration yesterday after a two-day hearing on a charge of unprofessional conduct involving turpitude brought by the Cincinnati Bar Assn.

Short Story

HOUSTON (AP)—The social security office here got a terse bit of family history from an old Bible brought in yesterday to establish an age claim.

The Bible's family record section listed the births of five children, then ended with: "Maw quit paw—June 1923."

Terry, Dickey Named

Maranville Leads Voting, Wins Spot in Hall of Fame

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP)—Rabbit Maranville, Bill Dickey and Bill Terry are in baseball's Hall of Fame today but Joe DiMaggio still is on the outside—for at least one more year.

Maranville, the sprightly little shortstop of the 1914 "miracle" Boston Braves who died Jan. 5, led the ticket in the latest elections by the Baseball Writers' Assn. Dickey, all-time Yankee catching great, and Terry, last 400-hitter in the National League, were close behind.

DiMaggio, who retired in 1951, missed by 14 votes. Totals of 252 ballots were cast by 10-year members with 75 per cent of 189 necessary for election.

The rules were changed this year, restricting the field to players active within the last 25 years but out of baseball in any "field" capacity for at least five years. That eliminated managers, catchers and umpires who still are active or have been since 1948. The only exceptions were Dickey, DiMaggio and Ted Lyons, who had received 100 or more votes in the 1953 election.

Evangelist Hits Communism in Sermon Theme

When Church Night was observed at the union Spiritual Victory Crusade service Wednesday night at Epworth Methodist Church, an audience of approximately 1,200 heard Rev. Charles Taylor speak on "Is the Church Necessary?" He gave a warning against Communism saying, "If we think we can substitute radio or television religion for the Sunday School and the local church family, we are whipped and Communism will take over."

Delegations from the various churches co-operating in the special effort and their pastors were given recognition. The nightly services which will continue through Jan. 25 are being sponsored here by the Marion County Ministerial Association.

Tonight the evangelist will speak on "The Unwilling Cross Bearer," and he will show colored moving pictures of the 1954 Rose Parade in Pasadena, Calif., which he photographed. Friday night will be Music Night, and Rev. Laurie Taylor will play his second musical program of the crusade on his special Steinway piano featuring works of modern composers.

Recognizing "the power of small churches filled with loyal Christian believers," the preacher said in his Wednesday night sermon, "Christianity and Communism have something in common. Christianity had it first, and Communism has stolen the idea. The local cell of loyal believers who are willing to die for their faith can change the world. Christianity began with establishing a small church and in 300 years they turned the pagan empire off its hinges."

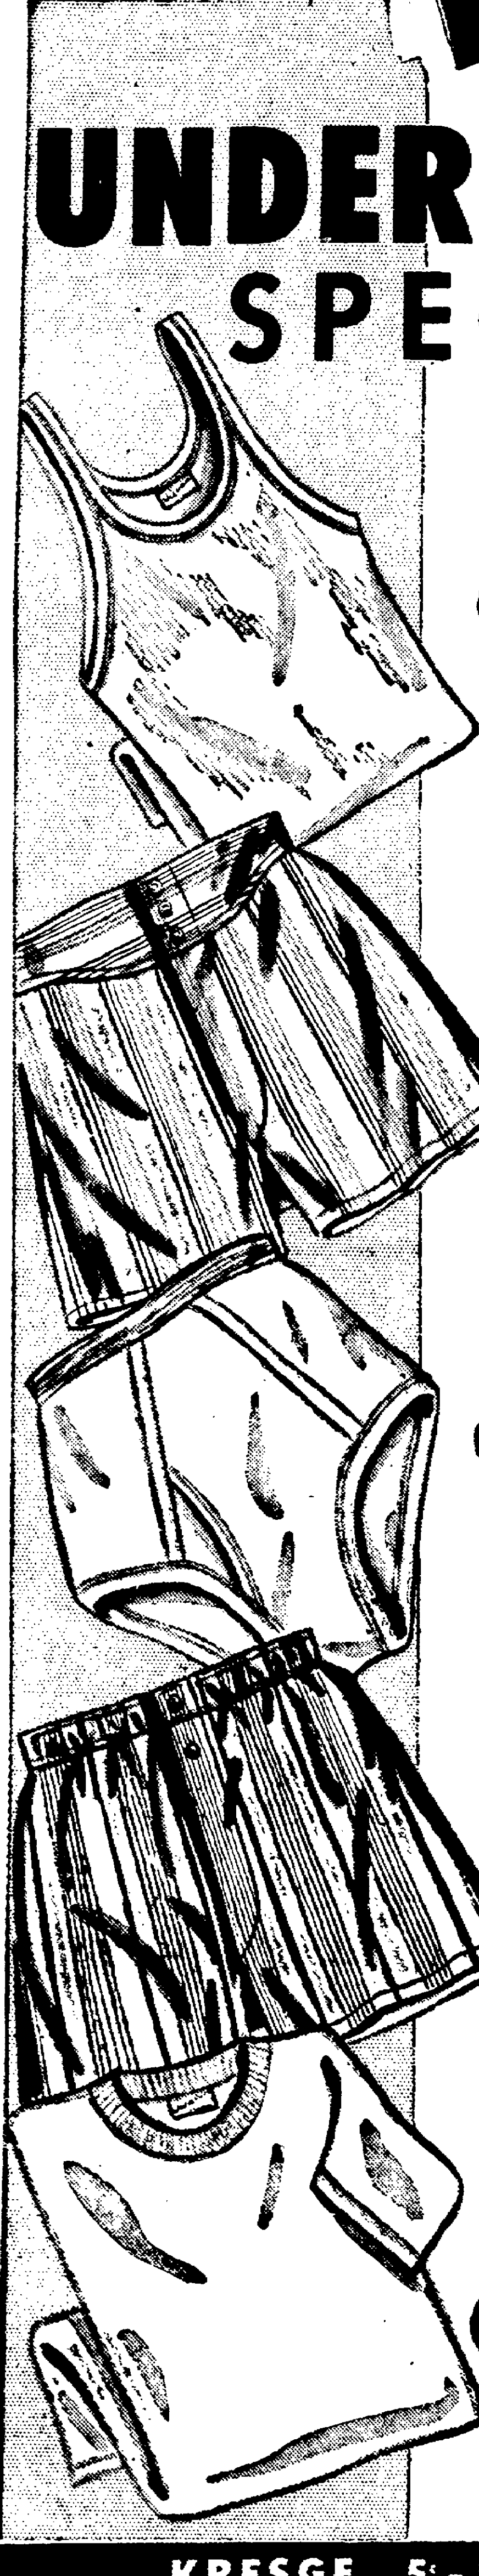

"For today, Communists are organized into local cells in every city of the world. We have thousands of them being trained to take over the strategic services in every city in America, light, power, transportation, police. It doesn't take many. All you have to do is have a few willing to die for the Communist idea and when Communism thinks the time is ripe it will appear armed and ready."

"They would destroy everything we believe worthwhile and they know what a lot of lazy, Sunday morning sleepers who don't go to church don't know, that the local Christian church is their greatest enemy. That is why, whenever Communism takes over, the church of Christ is crucified. Everyone who fails to see the necessity of the church and fails to attend and support it is making the work of Communists that much easier. What are you doing about it?" he asked.

Army Offering Expanded Plan In Nurse Field

Area registered nurses are being offered opportunities to earn degrees in any of the nursing fields under Army auspices according to an announcement from Ft. Hayes.

Capt. Elizabeth E. Angell, Army nurse procurement officer for Ohio and Kentucky, announced a limited number of Ohio registered nurses could earn degrees if they met certain specifications.

One of the basic requirements of the new department of the Army plan is that candidates for the program must be able to complete the required studies within a year. The plan calls for commissioning 250 selected applicants as second lieutenants in the Nurse Corps of the Army Reserve. They will receive pay and allowances of that rank, together with allowances for the purchase of uniforms. Selected candidates will be enrolled as full-time students in any of the 144 United States colleges and universities which grant degrees in nursing and must complete the degree requirements within a year.

Then each nurse will be required to serve in the Army Nurse Corps for three years, including the time spent in earning her degree. In addition to being a registered nurse, each applicant must be a female citizen of the United States between the ages of 21 and 31, unmarried, have no dependent under age 18, physically qualified, and possess high moral and personal qualifications.

Upon completion of degree requirements the nurses will be assigned to Army medical installations in the United States or overseas to complete their three year tour of duty.

Capt. Angell said nurses interested in the new plan contact her at Ft. Hayes or the Surgeon General, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D.C. Candidates will be selected in time to begin studies for degrees next month.

TURKISH FANS GET MAD

ISTANBUL (AP) — Bottled drinks are no longer sold in the auditorium of the Istanbul Sports Palace—as a safety precaution. Authorities ordered the move after a wrestling match recently between Turkish and Iran teams. Pop bottles rained on the mat as fans booed an unpopular decision, favoring an Iranian wrestler. One bottle gashed the head of Necmi Atesh, President of the Istanbul branch of the ruling Democrat party.

Farm Panel Studies Breeding of Sheep

Problems of sheep cross breeding were discussed by a panel before 45 Wyandot County sheep producers Monday evening at Upper Sandusky.

The panel, consisting of a commercial breeder, a buyer, a packer and a member representing research and education, discussed "Cross Breeding for Quality Lambs". W. W. Wharton, associate County agent, was moderator for the panel consisting of Karl Gerber of near Upper Sandusky, Walter Finlay of the Eastern Order Buying Co., Jack McCarey of Swift and Co., and Ralph Grimshaw, extension sheep specialist.

The panel gave three main reasons why commercial sheep farmers should cross breed. Members of the panel discussed the hybrid vigor that was present when different types of sheep were crossed and stated that lamb mortality was decreased by a large per cent in cross breeding but said the quality of lambs produced by following a cross breeding program seemed to be the main reason for the "nic" crosses.

The panel further discussed the problem and enlightened the flock owners on the possible crosses they should use on the ewes they possess, also warning them about some crossings where nicing would not occur.

The panel thought there was a definite need for cross breeding in the county since quality lambs could be sold at a premium through the lamb pool being started in Upper Sandusky this year. Wharton concluded the meeting by showing the need for sheep management, parasite control and a good feeding program as well as a good breeding program to produce a double blue lamb.

NOSEY COON DOG

WEST CUMBERLAND, Me. (AP)—Linwood Morrill and his son, Erv, hope Old Tim has at least another year of hunting. Old Tim is blind in one eye and can't see too well with the other but he has the sharpest nose for coons of any dog in these parts. Old Tim is 10 years old (70 by human standards). Tim, when he was young, chased many a fox but they became too fast for him and, of his own accord his owners say, he shifted to coons. He stays on a coon trail even when it is crossed by one of the few foxes left in this area. Old Tim's score the past season was 68 coons.

In the early days charcoal was used for the smelting of iron and Atesh, President of the Istanbul branch of the ruling Democrat party, resulted by heavy cutting to produce it.

Fuel Comes From Shale

Vast Colorado Oil Reserves Unlocked

RIFLE, Colo. (INS)—Engineers already looking forward to the day when oil will be taken from coal.

Union Oil's Rubel recently called on the federal government to finance a 10,000 barrel-a-day oil-shale plant using methods developed by the Rifle station. He said it would be the same kind of government aid given to develop the atomic submarine and new jet planes.

THE INITIAL investment for the most economical full size shale plant—group—the size profit-seeking capital would have to shoot for — is enormous. The National Petroleum Council estimates an investment of more than a billion dollars to cover the most economical size 250,000 barrel-a-day plant. Of course, engineers believe the development probably will come with smaller, perhaps, 50,000 barrel-a-day plants. Water is another problem although at

AFTER TESTING, a pilot 72-foot dry, gas retort this summer, they say indications are an oil-shale plant might now profitable compete with petroleum from the ground.

Chief Boyd Guthrie of the plant says an estimated trillion barrels of oil are locked in the 16,000-square-mile Colorado-Utah-Wyoming deposit. In the mere thousand-square-mile tested, Colorado deposits are about 500 billion barrels. That's more than seven times the 70 billion barrels America has produced and can pump from proven petroleum reserves.

The most economical size 250,000 barrel-a-day plant to produce oil from shale would also produce a number of by-products—ammonia, sulphur, tar acids and bases, cokes and others. Some of them are not derivable in similar abundance and others not at all from some petroleum.

THE ONE PLANT would generate enough excess gas to create half the electric power produced by Boulder Dam.

Curiously, the fabulous oil-shale deposit is only a few miles from America's richest known store of uranium ore, the Colorado Plateau. Together, the mining of uranium and the oil-bearing "magnesium marlstone" promise an unprecedented future for the barren western slope of Colorado's Continental Divide.

Vice President A. C. Rubel of the Union Oil Company predicts full scale commercial use of oil-shale will come "within five or 10 years." And the Paley report to President Truman predicts a well developed industry turning out two million barrels of crude by 1975.

Engineers agree with the forecasts. So do residents of the little mile-high town of Rifle, which already calls itself, "The Oil Shale Capital of the World."

THE ENGINEERS say soon the Colorado River Valley will be spotted with oil-producing plants. Oil companies are playing shale-oil poker with cards close to their chests. They aren't revealing plans for plants. But they are keeping abreast of research, and many are doing their own experimental work.

More indicative, perhaps, they have backed their hands with hard cash. Oil companies now own outright 50 per cent of the richest deposits.

There is no question among oil men, professional seers and hard-boiled financiers that shale-oil will someday supplement petroleum. And never in the past have prophets of the oil industry overestimated future demands. The development must come simply because demand is increasing rapidly in the United States and leaping ahead in the world.

EXPERTS SEE plants set up in the area to use by-product electrical power, like the power-hungry aluminum industry. One expert has predicted the oil-shale industry will eventually provide electricity for the west coast. Contributing to the "powerhouse" will be perhaps chemical plants using other by-products, the already large mining of uranium ore from the nearby Colorado Plateau and the mining of coal.

Colorado State Mine Inspector Thomas Allen has estimated Colorado has five per cent of the world's coal reservoir. And petro-

Chicago Lists Drop In Rate of Crimes

CHICAGO (UP) — Chicago's crime rate is dropping.

Charles G. O'Regan, deputy commissioner of police, said there were almost 3,000 fewer incidents of crime reported during the first 11 months of 1953 than in the corresponding period the year before. Increases were reported in only three of 11 classifications. Robberies, including attempted robberies, increased from 5,564 to 5,890. Attempted rapes increased from 102 to 107 and aggravated assaults from 3,873 to 4,008.

Murder, manslaughter by automobile, manslaughter, statutory rape, forcible rape, burglary, larceny and automobile thefts all declined. Murders dropped from 141 to 123.

ASHENFELTER TOPPED NYAC NEW YORK (UP)—Olympic steeplechase champion Horace Ashenfelter was the top scorer in track and field for the New York Athletic Club in 1953. Ashenfelter succeeded Jim Fuchs, who was top man for three years. Trapshooters Nicholas Egan and Roger Fawcett were next in total points scored for the NYAC.

Necktie Top Puzzle To Burmese Visitor

ATHEENS, Ga. (INS) — Western civilization can be as painful as well as puzzling to an alert boy from Burma whose native dress does not require a necktie.

Salai Tun Than good-naturedly shrugged his red velvet slippers and bright silk skirt for American shoes and flannel trousers upon enrolling at the University of Georgia in Athens.

But the necktie . . .

"I feel like I'm hanging myself," he complained.

Tun Than, who learned to speak perfect English at the University of Rangoon, was quick to note and comply with other customs of the United States.

He's trying hard to remember to wear his shoes in the house, but to forget to bow to his professors. The Burmese student philosophically concluded that winter temperatures will keep him in step on the shoes score. And perhaps American professors won't mind an excellent watchdog."

absent-minded bow once in a while. Meanwhile, he concluded "there are more automobiles than people in America."

Tun Than plans to get his master's degree at Athens and continue his study for a Ph.D. degree elsewhere in America.

He chooses subjects to qualify him to work with the Burmese government in an effort to improve the country's agricultural conditions.

The visitor explained that Burma has practiced a destructive type of agriculture known as "shifting cultivation" for almost 2,000 years.

Burmese farmers clear a forest, plant a crop and harvest it. The next year they move on to another area and start all over again.

Seaway Could Cost Taxpayers Plenty

By EDWARD E. NELLOE

WASHINGTON (NANA)—While the Senate argues over spending $700,000,000 for St. Lawrence seaway projects, a check of Army Engineer files today reveals that taxpayers are already footing a 1953 bill for $1,440,000,000 in harbor and inland waterway improvements.

Twenty-one states are sharing in the benefits, including New York, which perhaps stands to gain most from the St. Lawrence project if it is approved by Congress.

Approximately $25,000,000 has already been spent in channel and harbor work in Buffalo, on the Hudson River and the New York City harbor, out of an appropriation of $40,000,000 authorized for the work.

Sens. J. Glenn Beall and John Butler, Republicans of Maryland, along with Sen. Russell B. Long (D., La.) have emerged as strong objectors to the St. Lawrence seaway construction.

MARYLAND, for the improvement of the Baltimore harbor and channel, has spent $6,000,000 out of a $10,000,000 appropriation and Louisiana is in the process of spending approximately $60,000,000 in three river and harbor projects.

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R., Wis.) pointed out that this cash is put up by all the taxpayers and is a gift.

Oregon, Montana and Washington states have the largest single chunk of federal cash to spend on river improvements, including dams. In Oregon $112,000,000 out of $270,000,000 has already been spent on the McDary dam; in Washington state $206,000,000 has been authorized for the Chief Joseph dam and in Montana $131,000,000 has been spent out of an appropriation of $156,000,000 for the Fort Peck dam installation.

EIGHT OF THE 21 states sharing in the $1,440,000 appropriated to the Army Engineers for 1953 are in the South; four are in the Far West, the remainder the Southwest and Midwest. Proponents of the St. Lawrence seaway are reminding senators from these states of this fact when their inclinations to oppose the new project is revealed.

The rivers and harbors annual appropriation is generally considered a "pork barrel" by members of Congress. During the New and Fair Deal administrations vast spending plans were dumped into the legislation, and not unnaturally in areas where party faithful were hard pressed by political opponents.

Economy-minded Republicans vowed to put an end to some of this spending, but are facing a tough fight on the St. Lawrence project. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York is masterminding the political operations for successful passage of the St. Lawrence seaway bill, with complete cooperation from the White House.

Some Southern senators privately express the opinion that a $700,000,000 project in New York State, in view of the determination of the GOP to hold down spending, might result in drastic financial trimmings for their own pet projects.

If seaway legislation is passed it will be, according to veteran political manipulators in Washington, the result of considerable horse trading that will pay off when Congress takes up its annual duty of providing cash for all river and harbor projects.

A DEER FRIEND

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Deerhunter Ira Goss, stealthily scanned the nearby wooded Tumbling Run Valley in quest of game. He was startled when he heard the tinkling of a bell. Turning his eyes to the noise, he watched for its source. It turned out to be a deer—apparently a pet which strayed from some farm. It came right up to him. There was no shooting. Goss fed the deer and went home emptyhanded.

Polio Committee Meeting Slated Friday at YMCA

Dr. Frederick W. Rea, chairman of the Marion County Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, has called a committee dinner meeting at the YMCA for Friday.

Dr. Rea, commenting on the cost of polio treatment, said that everything costs one-half more than it cost in 1948 and expressed a sincere desire that the people of Marion and Marion County give generously to support the 1954 drive for funds.

Marion and Marion County is still paying for surgery that was completed in 1948, 49 and 50, and in 1956 will probably be paying for surgery and treatment given in 1953. These payments are made out of the funds contributed in the past and the money that will be received in the future.

Due to a stepped-up program in research and the discovery of the vaccine for treatment and prevention of polio, more money will be needed in the future. Ohio will be among the states to receive vaccine treatments from the National Foundation in 1954.

Dr. Rea is looking forward to the opening of the Magnetic Spings Polio Center. Dr. K. W. Keever is trying to raise necessary funds at the present time to open the polio treatment center. "It would be wonderful to have a center near by to treat our Marion and Marion County cases," said Dr. Rea.

The possibility of a physiotherapy addition in the new Marion County Hospital would also give local polio patients a better and quicker opportunity to recover, he said.

R. F. Langdon, Marion County treasurer of the NFIP makes the following report: In 1953 Marion spent $17,705.04 and has unpaid bills in the amount of $1,674.83, with a bank balance of only $8.47. This money was spent on 28 cases in 1953 and for additional treatment for the 25 cases from prior years. The Marion Chapter is now furnishing some financial aid for an average of 50 cases per year covered by both old and new cases.

The financial aid doesn't end the year in which a case is stricken, but often goes on for treatment for many more years.

Woman Directs Library of U.S. Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States Supreme Court library, silent contributor to many historic opinions, is headed for the first time by a woman—Helen Newman, a capital city native.

Tall and gracious, Miss Newman directs a multitude of activities by a 12-member staff. A member of the Supreme Court bar, she has wide legal training in addition to her library training.

To a visitor entering the majestic, oak-paneled reading room on the top floor of the court building, the library appears to be merely a quiet spot for attorneys preparing their cases. But Miss Newman says when the court is in session, it is hectic behind the scenes.

During oral arguments before the bench, a justice frequently will want to examine a prior opinion, a state court decision, or other record. He scribbles a note which goes to the library by way of a pneumatic tube on the marshal's desk. Immediately telephones buzz, messengers dart about, and in a flash down goes the lift carrying the wanted material.

Throughout a three-year period the average time for filling requests from the bench has been just under two minutes.

One of the busiest times for her staff was in 1952, when the court held illegal President Truman's seizure of the steel industry. When the opinions were handed down, Justice Felix Frankfurter had attached to his opinion two charts showing industrial seizures as far back as the Civil War as well as an analysis of the authorizing statutes.

This tremendous research job sent Miss Newman to the manuscript division of the Library of Congress and to the U. S. Archives to examine original sources. Everything had to be finished, with pin-point accuracy, in less than three weeks.

"We were all working on the case," Miss Newman said. "The pressure was terrific."

"Trustworthiness is an important consideration in choosing the staff," she said. "We never can hint what justice is working on what case."

"And there has never been a leak through the library," she added with pride.

While the Rosenberg spy case was before the court last spring, lights burned late in the library, sometimes until midnight.

"But almost everything the court needed was ready," Miss Newman remembered. "We already had compiled the legislative history of the Atomic Energy Act. That's the way it is in a library, you have to be ready for the crisis when it comes."

In between crises, Miss Newman directs the routine necessary in a 170,000-volume library, including the purchase and cataloging of new material, providing answers for the bar and judges of lower courts, and replying to letters from writers, teachers, school children, and others.

Miss Newman was graduated with distinction from George Washington University Law School in 1925, and now is a university trustee. Two years later, she became the school's law librarian.

She came to the Supreme Court March 31, 1947, at the request of the late Chief Justice Harlan Fiske Stone.

Service News

Sgt. Charles Paul Lister was promoted to his present rank while serving in Korea, according to word received here by his mother. He is the son of Mrs. Louise Lister of Marion and of Carl L. Lister of Kenton. His advancement in rank occurred Dec. 15. While he was in Kokura, Japan, recently on rest leave he called Mrs. Lister by telephone. Entering service in October, 1952, he completed basic training at Camp Pickett, Va., and arrived in the Far East the following April. He has been stationed in Korea with the 2nd Medical Battalion.

Staff Sgt. David C. Hut of Marion has been assigned to Headquarters Air Weather Service at Andrews Air Force Base, Washington, D.C., after spending a 30-day furlough here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hut of 347 Lafayette St. He recently completed a course in electronics at Kessler Air Force Base, Miss., and Chanute Air Force Base, Ill.

Make Hungarian Goulash for Cold Days

A hearty meat stew is the dish for a hungry family on cold winter evenings.

This Hungarian goulash is a tasty variation of the usual stew. The beef is simmered to fork tenderness in bouillon seasoned with paprika and a whiff of garlic. When the meat is almost tender, cubed potatoes are added to cook in the rich broth.

To make it taste just right, follow this recipe:

- 1 pound beef stew meat
- 1 clove garlic
- 2 medium onions
- 2 teaspoons paprika
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 bouillon cubes
- 2 cups boiling water
- 2 cups diced potatoes.

Cut meat into 1-inch cubes and brown in a little hot fat. Add minced garlic, sliced onions, seasonings and the bouillon cubes dissolved in hot water. Cover and simmer 2 1/2 hours. Add 1 cup hot water and potatoes cut in 1/4 inch cubes. Cook 20 minutes longer, or until potatoes are tender. Season to taste and thicken, if necessary. 4 servings.

Computer Bettered Through 'Surgery'

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUNDS, Md. (UP)—The Army's first all-electronic computer underwent "brain surgery" here with the result it can "remember" 100 10-digit numbers, five times its original capacity.

The electronic numerical integrator and computer has been on duty at the ballistic research laboratories to help the Army solve problems posed by America's new weapons during the past six years. Before the new "memory" was installed, the ENIAC could remember only 20 10-digit numbers. If more space were required, the electronic device had to refer to its notes, in the form of cards, punched or read outside the machine itself.

The "memory" is composed of 4,400 tiny magnets whose polarity may be changed electrically. All of the magnets, or any number of them, mark time or turn in place when ordered to do so by the computer or the machine operator. The direction in which the magnets face later tells the ENIAC what to do or enables it to remember answers to problems previously solved.

And this mental muscle is no longer in danger of mathematical amnesia. If the machine is shut off the magnets remain in the condition they held at the time the machine ceased operations, thus allowing the electronic device to remember answers to problems or the last set of instructions fed into its brain.

Caution Advised

WASHINGTON (UP)—Use household insecticides with care, the U. S. Department of Agriculture advises.

Entomologist L. S. Henderson cautions against exposing yourself to dust or spray mist from insecticides, or letting them get on dishes, silverware, or cooking utensils.

If you spill a concentrated insecticide on the skin, wash immediately with soap and water. When an insecticide container is emptied, dispose of it. Change your clothes if you spill insecticide on them—and wash the stained garments at once in hot soapsuds.

Army Finds Many Uses for Plastics

WASHINGTON (UP)—Plastics are replacing metals to an increasing degree in the economy-minded U. S. Army.

Substitutes for steel, aluminum, wood, and leather are more durable and weigh less than items they replace, and they save materials which become critical in wartime. They also have high resistance to rot and corrosion.

The Army's plastic items include cups, bowls, tumblers and five-compartment mess trays, all used daily in messhalls. The plastic tableware is virtually non-breakable and much lighter than the thick chinaware and metals they replaced. Food also stays hotter longer in plastic containers.

The Signal Corps has found plastic radio antennae lighter and cheaper than the steel formerly used. It also uses plastic telephone hand sets on "handy talkies" and "walkie talkies" radios and plastic jackets to cover rubber insulation on wire and cable.

During the Korean fighting, the Ordnance Corps adopted a land mine weighing four and one-half ounces. It is small enough to be carried in the palm of the hand but powerful enough to blow off the foot of anyone who steps on it. The case is made of a glass fiber-reinforced plastic. It contains slightly more than one ounce of high explosive tetryl.

Its cost of $2.50 compares with $13 paid during World War II for its nine-pound predecessor but inflicts just as much damage as the heavy mine. Being non-metallic, it cannot be located by a mine detector.

Other plastic items currently undergoing tests in Army research laboratories are assault boats weighing between 200 and 300 pounds and capable of carrying 15 men, pontoons for floating bridges, and plastic lockers to replace foot lockers used in soldiers' barracks and the locker trunks used for shipping their equipment.

Jane Addams, head of the famous Hull House in Chicago for many years, and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, onetime president of Columbia University, shared the Nobel peace prize in 1931.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR
LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UP)—Teachers at Jeerson High School couldn't understand why so many students suddenly began arriving late for class—until they looked outside the school building. Students were getting between-class instruction from a novelty salesman on manipulation of the yo-yo.

Historians believe cotton originated in India, perhaps about 3,000 BC.

Finishing Building

Construction of Hospital Following Close Schedule

Construction of the new city-county owned Marion General Hospital is progressing "right on schedule," Paul Ryan, superintendent for the Knowlton Construction Co., said today.

Barring unforeseen setbacks or delays the general contracting architectural work on the building should be finished sometime in July. The contract awarded to the Knowlton Construction Co. called for this phase of the project to be completed the first part of July.

Following this some of the mechanical work along with furnishing and equipping the interior of the building must be completed. This makes it difficult to predict the actual date the building will be ready for occupancy.

Presently all partitions on the basement and first floors have been completed and all windows have been installed, Ryan said. Also stairs have been installed and door frames of all elevators and dumbwaiters have been installed. Some 90 per cent of the roughing in and plumbing has been completed, Ryan said.

All tile wall and floor covering installations in the corridors in the basement and first floors and in the operating rooms have also been completed and some 60 per cent of the tile on the second floor has been installed.

Ryan said workmen on the inside of the building presently are concentrating mostly on brickwork and erection of partitions. The roof of the building is nearly completed, he added.

New-Type Street Lights Bring Cut in Accidents

CHICAGO (UP) — Traffic accidents have declined an average of 35 per cent in those areas of seven American cities illuminated by mercury vapor lights, a survey shows.

The survey, conducted by the Jefferson Electric Co., Bellwood, Ill., a large independent manufacturer of transformers, listed the cities and their percentages of traffic accident decrease as:

Des Moines, Ia., 90 per cent; Richmond, Va., 47 per cent; Dallas, Tex., 36 per cent; Cheyenne, Wyo., 34 per cent; Denver, Colo., 18 per cent; Reno, Nev., 15 per cent; and Atlanta, Ga., 4 per cent. Jefferson checked 65 U. S. cities in 28 states and the District of Columbia and found that mercury vapor mileage today is nearly 16 times what it was in 1948 and 163 times what it was in 1943.

None of the 65 cities had an increase in either accidents or crime in areas illuminated by mercury vapor lighting.

LONGEST ESCALATOR
BOSTON (UP) — A Boston office building has put into operation what is described as the longest moving stairway in the world. It runs, from the basement to the eighth floor and down again — a total of 1,083 moving steps.

COLD WEATHER? Everyone else may be freezing but for Jo Jo, Kodiak bear at the Bronx Zoo, New York, happy days are here again. He appears to be enjoying a hearty laugh as the temperature tumbles toward zero.

California Mixes Charm and Politics

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) — California's top politicians are proud fathers of some of the prettiest girls you'd ever want to meet. Eight (count 'em) lovely young things have graced the capitol in recent months.

First there were the three well-known daughters of former Gov. Earl Warren, now Chief Justice of the United States, and one not so well-known, but equally lovely daughter-in-law. Virginia, Dorothy and Nina (Honeybear) Warren have been photographed by virtually every national magazine with a yen for a big smile and a little cheesecake. And a new addition to the Warren family is Patty Kent Warren, dark-eyed bride of Earl Warren, Jr.

Now the new hierarchy. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, a widower, brings into office with him two of Southern California's fairest. There's Marilyn Knight, who actually is Mrs. Robert A. Eaton, wife of a Los Angeles attorney, now a secretary to the governor; Mrs. Eaton is official hostess for the governor.

Carolyn Knight is a silver-blond 20-year-old University of Southern California student. She admits she and her father often disagree politically and the day after her father was elected Carolyn said she had not decided whether she was a Republican or Democrat.

"My father encourages me to be an independent thinker," she said. Carolyn is a student of comparative religion, a skilled horsewoman, and has sold articles to leading magazines. When invited to participate in recent public ceremonies at Red Bluff, she told her father: "You go ahead and be governor dad, I'm too busy."

In the far northeastern part of the state in Modoc county lives

Jane Powers, 16, blonde, blue-eyed daughter of Lt. Gov. Harold J. Powers.

Jane is Surprise Valley High School yell leader, a natural horsewoman, and likes to swim, ski and ice skate. She was learning to fly when her cautious father put a stop to the lessons.

Betty Powers, the Lieutenant Governor's daughter-in-law, a slim brunette with brown eyes, is a graduate of the University of Vermont. She and Jack Powers, now an Air Force Staff sergeant, were married last July.

In contrast to Carolyn Knight's political indecision, Betty is solidly Republican. There isn't any other party in Vermont, she says. That's California's feminine political lineup. And watch the photographers reach for flash bulbs when these girls go campaigning with their respective fathers.

REDS BUILD STADIA

TOKYO (AP) — Peiping's Red radio said recently that eight new stadia are being built in northwest China to cope with demands in the field of sports. One, in the suburbs of Siam, capital city of the area, will hold 100,000 spectators.

The wool of the Angora rabbit is valued for its length, softness, luster and fineness.

Supply of Air In Space Travel Is Big Problem

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Air conditioning systems will be a vital feature of future space ships, according to Frederick H. Green, official of an air conditioning concern.

Green said air conditioning requirements for space ships cannot be eliminated by substituting automatic control equipment.

"Complex mechanisms need the same environment as human beings," he said. "In fact, for some control functions, human beings are more efficient because they occupy less space and weigh less."

The air conditioning system in a ship flying with no outside atmospheric pressure must not only control air temperature and circulation, but cabin air pressure, and chemicals in the air as well, Green added.

He cited a few air conditioning problems involved in the flight of a space ship.

Since there will be no atmosphere, oxygen must be provided as part of the air conditioning system, he said. Oxygen will be in the form of liquid.

Green said an absence of gravity will mean there will be no natural convection of air. Warm air will not rise and be replaced by cold air, as it does on the earth.

"A man confined to a small area would soon be surrounded by carbon-dioxide from his own ex-haling," Green said, "eventually causing his asphyxiation. . . . Forced circulation reaching into every corner of the ship will be essential."

Radiant heat from the sun will be exploited by the air conditioning system, he added. By using the theory that black absorbs heat from the sun and white reflects it, the radiant heat can be controlled by painting one side white and the opposite side black and turning one side of the ship or the other to the sun.

A problem still unsolved is the danger of air leaks in the space ship's cabin. Green said passengers will faint before they have time to find a leak that develops in the pressurized cabin. An automatic sealer will have to be devised, Green said. The pressure will have to return to normal automatically to revive those who have fainted.

Green said there are many other problems to be solved and that his AirResearch firm is already working on them.

Comedian Rewritten

The Milton Berle show — I never thought I'd live to see the day I'd say such a thing — is a terribly, terribly funny show, just about the most consistently funny full hour anywhere on television. Goodman Ace, it seems to me, has done large miracles in transforming Milton Berle into something resembling respectability.

The Berle show was once an over-long nightclub act with Mr. B. pretty much getting into everyone else's act. Now it comes pretty close to being a one-hour musical comedy with plot, production numbers, songs, and the rest of it.

I suppose one of the reasons I enjoy this sort of rowdy musical is because it has practically van-

Every TV show should, it seems to me, set its sights impossibly high and then go ahead and do it. The success of the rejuvenated Berle show is not entirely to be credited to Goodman Ace, who is its head writer. Berle has been surrounded by two of the best stooges in the business. One is Arnold Stang who can make me laugh simply by sticking his chin out. Another is Ruth Gilbert, who as Max Berle's secretary, is one of the most sure-footed laugh-getters on television.

A couple of years ago, Miss Gilbert played a minor role on a now defunct radio comedy series and consistently got all the laughs away from the star. The writer kept trying to tone her material down so as not to overshadow the star. It couldn't be done. Even the most inept dialogue falling from Miss Gilbert's lips broke up the audience. She's a natural.

ACE AND his colleagues are writing what amounts to comedy of character or as close to comedy of character as you're likely to get on TV. The writers play variations on about three jokes and the variations, week after week, are harder to come up with than new jokes. This is the formula that has sustained Jack Benny for a couple of decades and looks as if it will work on Berle, too.

In addition to a crackjack regular cast, no expense is spared to get guests who fit that week's story line (rather than the old system of procuring a name star without any clear idea as to what he was to do. Recently, in a sort of satire on Mickey Spillane's novels, the Berle show had Mr. Spillane, Basil Rathbone and Dagmar, a curious assortment of talents which fitted that week's story exactly right.

And, of course, we mustn't underestimate Mr. Berle who is magnificently gifted in a dozen ways — provided someone sits on him. Every comedian, it seems to me, should have similar restraints laid on him. Left to themselves, comedians get a lot of painful delusions.

The success of the Berle show ought to dispel Mr. Ace's fear that no one could understand his jokes west of the Hudson. People seem to be enjoying his jokes all over the place now.

CONFUSION BEFORE CONTROL. A Caracas street presents a confused scene as construction is under way to further a traffic control plan in the Venezuelan capital.

First Lady Devoted to Her Job After Full Year in White House

WASHINGTON (UP) — Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower ended her first year in the White House with her characteristic high spirits undiminished and with a record of enterprising devotion to her job as First Lady.

But the job has not been without its compromises.

Mrs. Eisenhower still breakfasts in bed but now foregoes a leisurely second cup of coffee in order to plan her day's schedule.

She keeps up her voluminous private correspondence with far-scattered friends, but the letters are dictated to a secretary and no longer written in her own clear hand.

She is better dressed than a year ago but bargain-hunting expeditions to downtown shops are a thing of the past. She orders her clothes by mail or telephone from newspaper advertisements.

As White House hostess she has been able to indulge her liking for people. She shook hands with 16,000 White House guests (plus a few thousand more at outside affairs) last spring and, after a summer-time lull, is well on her way to a second 16,000 this winter. But most of her guests are "official" or strangers, and too few are her old friends.

But if the White House has made changes in Mamie Eisenhower, it can also be said that she has made changes in the White House.

She has a real talent for interior decorating and, even with the government's Fine Arts Commission peering over her shoulder, has managed to leave her touch in almost every room. In the private second-floor living quarters, she has moved furniture, swapped drapes, had a few walls repainted and introduced prized family possessions that make the Eisenhowers feel at home wherever they live.

Washington old timers are singing Mrs. Eisenhower's praises as White House hostess. They compare her hospitality with that of Grace Coolidge.

She and President Eisenhower revived Easter egg rolling on the White House lawn for the first time since before World War II, and formal social life at the White House this winter is being carried off with a gloss and glitter Washington hasn't seen in years.

But Mrs. Eisenhower has her own ideas about entertaining. She took an active dislike to the traditional seating arrangement at formal banquets, which placed some guests facing the wall, and others with their backs to the President and First Lady. She introduced a table plan so that all guests face toward their host and hostess.

She also tried out a new technique for greeting large groups of women at afternoon receptions. She abandoned the mechanical handshake, and stood on the stair greeting guests with a smile and a wave.

Actually, Mrs. Eisenhower holds up well at parties where she must shake hands with several thousand guests. She hasn't yet had to treat her hands to a whirlpool bath, as Mrs. Harry Truman often did.

The First Lady also became a style leader in her first year. Mamie bangs now are standard style for women of all ages. She started a fad by matching her gloves to her costume and stockings to her shoes or dress. It remains to be seen whether her decision to keep her skirts at 13 and one-half inches will be limited, despite Dior's decree for shorter hemlines.

If one year as First Lady has brought any new gray hairs, no one can detect them. Mrs. Eisenhower looks far younger than her 57 years. But there are signs that her determination to do a good job may have taken its toll of her health. A prolonged cold kept her secluded from Thanksgiving to Christmas and forced her to cancel several engagements. Mrs. Eisenhower may have to listen to her friends who have been urging her to cut down on the number of groups she receives and invitations she accepts.

Mrs. Eisenhower no longer visits as frequently with old friends but she has established a new, warm relationship with the wives of cabinet members. She joins them for luncheon or cards every few weeks.

After a year, there is little doubt that a public opinion poll would show the nation approves its First Lady. And there is no doubt she likes her job.

ELECTION RACE CLOSE
CONTOCOCK, N. H. (UP) — The election for 1953-54 class secretary of the Contocook village school ended this year: Richard M. Tobey, grandson of the late U. S. Sen. Charles W. Tobey, defeated Cy Gregg, son of Gov. Hugh Gregg. But it was close — 13 to 12.

Florence E. Allen, member of the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, is the highest ranking woman jurist in the United States.

Search for Oil Stepped Up in India Province

DIBRUGAH, India (UP) — Prospectors are busy scanning 5,000 square miles of the aluvial Brahmaputra Valley in Assam for "oil pockets."

In one of the most intensive programs of oil exploration ever attempted in India, the prospecting includes three different types of geo-physical surveys — seismic, gravitational and aero-magnetic.

The field of operation extends from Mishmi Hills to Mikir Hills, northeastern and southeastern extremities of the state of Assam. While ordinary aircraft are to be used in the aero-magnetic survey, technicians await the arrival of helicopters to launch the seismic survey.

It all began some months ago when oil was found at a depth of nearly 10,000 feet at Nahorkotiya, in Lakhimpur district, 18 miles southwest of one of the Digboi oil fields.

This discovery led to a completely new assessment of the valley's petroleum possibilities. The purpose of the three-way geo-physical survey is to ensure accuracy and eliminate waste of time in the quest for oil.

A paddy field at Nahorkotiya, where the first drilling was made, yielded oil at a depth of 10,000 feet. Although this seemed most promising, the drilling was continued in search of yet deeper possibilities. Last May, after a year of hard labor, the well reached a depth of 11,175 feet, the deepest to be drilled in India.

At this extreme depth, nearly two and a quarter miles, the temperature of the earth and the pressure of the water-bearing sands made further drilling inadvisable. It was then decided to stop and take production tests of the oil encountered at 10,000 feet.

The first of these tests was begun late last June. An oil scientist skilled in "Schlumberger gun perforating techniques" set up his equipment at Nahorkotiya and fired bullets into one of the underground oil sands from a special type of electrically operated gun barrel lowered into the well.

This operation proved successful. The crude oil produced was piped to storage tanks and the accompanying surplus gas was burned off as a safety measure.

Meanwhile, engineers prepared for a second deep well at Nahorkotiya. Pile-driving operations are in progress to provide a firm foundation for the 140-foot high steel derricks which will lift the drilling outfit over the long-lying paddy fields.

Nahorkotiya will be linked with Digboi by a direct road through the Assam jungle and Upper Assam. This road, which will accommodate an oil pipeline for transporting the crude oil from Nahorkotiya to the Digboi refinery, also will serve the new drilling locations on the Digboi side of the Brahmaputra River.

Freshman Beanie Stolen From Student, Returned

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP) — A conscience-stricken youngster has returned to the Ithaca College dean of women, E. Gretchen Taylor, a freshman cap grabbed from the head of a girl student.

With the package was an unsigned note that said: "Not realizing that the loss of the blue hats would cost the students to replace them, I would like to return the one I took."

Mrs. Taylor appealed to high school students to quit snatching the beanies after 12 freshmen girls reported them taken.
